Edington Trial Set In July, Pleads Not Guilty

Truce Talks Recessed 6 More Days

Allies Ask Delay; Report U.S. Revising Armistice Plan

TOKYO (AP) — The Korean truce talks were recessed for another six days today and an informed U. N. Command source said if negotiations collapse the Allies probably will free 34,000 North Korean prisoners who refuse to return to Communist rule.

There were reports in Tokyo the Allies were preparing a revised armistice plan that might set a time limit on the peace talks.

The U. N. Command asked an extension until next Monday of the three-day recess that was due to end tomorrow. The Reds agreed at a liaison meeting at Panmunjom.

A source close to Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters said the U.N. Command is considering turning loose as civilians balky North Koreans.

The ultimate disposition of these and 14,500 Chinese captives who also have renounced communism is the last major block to a truce.

The source said a precedent for freeing captives already had been set by the Reds.

"They say they freed 'at the front' 50,000 Allied prisoners they grabbed early in the Korean War," said the source, whose name cannot be revealed.

"There is no reason to keep holding these North Korean prisoners. They hate communism and will not go back to it under any circumstances.

"They are anxious to get back to their wives and families and be assimilated in South Korea among people of their own nationality who also are opposed to communism.

"The 14,500 Chinese prisoners held by the U. N. Command are another thing. They do not want to return to communism either. But their future is something to talk about."

The U. N. Command said it asked for the extended recess in the truce talks for "more time to review past efforts and to

Sandra Joy Raizman and Ruth Elizabeth Wilson Get Top Honors

Sandra Joy Raizman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Raizman, of 123 E. Columbia St., and Ruth Elizabeth Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wilson, 372 Merchant Ave., have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the 1953 Harding High School graduating class.

Commencement exercises are scheduled for Wednesday, June 3.

The two senior girls hold top scholastic ratings in their class.

Sandra, who has a 3.866 scholastic average, is a member of the National Honor Society, X-Ray staff, Tri-Hi-Y president in the ninth grade, 11th grade treasurer, a member of the Quiver staff, office assistant, Prop's and Q's Club, and is a member of the senior prophecy committee. She attended Oak Street and Central Junior High Schools.

Her plans for next fall include entering the University of California at Los Angeles, where she will prepare for a teaching career or social work. Although, she'll be a long way from home, Sandra

Taft Defends Air Force Funds Slash

100 Wings in 6 Mo. Better Than 143 In 3 Years, He Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators of both parties criticized proposed Air Force money cuts as dangerous today but Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said "it is far better to have a 100-wing Air Force in six months than 143 wings in three years."

Taft, the Senate majority leader, indicated he thinks President Eisenhower will emphasize a hurry-up program for the Air Force in discussing defense money cuts in a national radio report tonight on security, budget balancing and taxation.

The President will speak from the White House, from 9:30 to 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, and his talk will be carried by all the major radio networks.

Legislature To Dip Into Big Surplus

House Hearings On $32¾ Million "A&B" Bill Readied

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The House Finance Committee today began to take a few in[illegible]ks at the last big money bill before the 100th General Assembly.

Formal hearings likely will start late in the week on a 32¾ million dollar "additions and betterments" bill introduced Monday.

More than one-third of the total—$13,276,200 to be exact — was assigned to welfare institution buildings and additions in the bill which came to the House from the state finance director.

The money for the big "A&B" bill comes from the state treasury surplus. The 32¾ million recommendation by Finance Director Herbert Defenbacher indicates he expects the state surplus for the last two years of operation to exceed 57 million dollars.

The present Legislature already has spent 24½ millions of the treasury surplus. If Defenbacher feels 32¾ millions will remain for new buildings and other capital improvements, it indicates his 1951 estimate of state revenues for the July 1, 1951-June 30, 1953, biennium was at least 57¼ millions low.

Introduction of the "A&B" bill, which usually signals the approaching windup of a legislative session, came as the Assembly opened its 20th week of work.

535 Attend Kick-Off Meeting

Dinner in New Y Building Launches Fund Campaign

By GARY SAMS

A group of 535 voluntary workers attended a kick-off dinner in the unfinished large gymnasium of the new YMCA building Monday night which launched a one-week drive for an additional $148,500 needed to complete the building. It was the first public meeting held in the new building.

Today, approximately 625 workers were calling on Marion residents in an attempt to collect $55,000, goal of the popular gifts division. The rest of the money is to be raised in the industrial and big gifts divisions.

A check for $1,506.61 was presented to J. B. Bray, who presided at last night's meeting. He is one of the heads of the popular gifts organization. Presentation of the check was made by Henry Guthrie and Bonnie Bush, two youngsters who took part in a YMCA salt water taffy sale in which the $1,506 was raised.

Bray announced the Lions Club had voted at a meeting Monday to pledge $500 to the campaign.

Final instructions were received by the popular gifts workers at the dinner Monday night. Afterwards they were conducted through the building. However, they were not able to tour the entire building because some of the plaster is still wet.

Bray told the group to "get this job done quickly" and said he could see no reason why "we can't be done by Thursday." The workers will meet Thursday at 6 p.m. in the old YMCA building for their first report meeting. Final report meeting is scheduled next Monday in the old building.

Last Drive "Magnificent"

Bray said in 1950 "many of you were present at the Coliseum meeting" and following the meeting, "you went out and raised $210,000. "It was magnificent," he said, adding, "we have the same organization and just as many workers here now."

"I told you workers then you literally had the keys of the Y in your hands," Bray said, "and you went out and got the quota. Tonight we are meeting in the building we tried to visualize three years ago.

Others Under Indictment Arraigned

All Plead Not Guilty; One Changes Plea And Is Put on Probation

Dates of July 14 and 15 were set for the trial of Howard Earl Edington, 23, of 558 Milburn Ave., who entered not guilty pleas to charges of breaking and entering, and assault with intent to commit rape, at his arraignment this morning before Judge Paul D. Smith in Common Pleas Court.

Edington was not present in the courtroom, but entered his pleas through his attorneys, Robert Kelly and Russell Wilhelm.

Also arraigned this morning were seven other men indicted by the grand jury last week. Arraignment for a ninth man, W. J. Meyer, indicted on three counts of forgery, will be Wednesday at 10 a.m.

In addition to Edington, others represented by attorneys and entering not guilty pleas were Robert Lehman, charged with fraud; Charley Bond, fraud; Raymond E. Thomas, forgery and fraud; Paul H. Waycaster, unarmed robbery; and Charles A. Wilson, unarmed robbery.

Lehman's trial date has been set for June 9. Dates for the other men's trials have not been set.

Tuesday's explanation only mentioned "reviewing" the prisoner question.

Memorial Day Speaker Will Be Rev. Owens

Speaker for Marion's Memorial Day service, to be held Saturday, May 30 at the Marion Cemetery, will be the Rev. Evan R. Owens, pastor of Prospect Street Methodist Church.

A parade through downtown Marion is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m., with the program at the cemetery to follow.

D. J. MacDonald is serving as general chairman of the Memorial Day committee.

The president of the day, Morris S. Britt, will preside for the program which will be opened with an overture by the Harding High School band. The invocation will be spoken by the Rev. F. E. Kline, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

General Logan's Order will be given by Elwin Falor, a senior at Harding High School, and Miss Shirley Fetter, also a senior at Harding, will give Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Playing of "America" by the combined Harding and Eagles bands, under the direction of Homer Huffman, will be followed by the salute to the flag led by Morris Britt.

The Rev. Mr. Owens' address will be followed by the dedication of the wreath to the memory of the honor dead of all wars and the massing of colors under the direction of Wilbur Boyd. The firing salute will be by Co. C, 166th Infantry, in charge of Capt. John Canterbury. Taps will be played by Eugene Pletcher, with the echo by Howard Sines. Dr. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, will give the benediction.

Several hours after the White House session, Secretary of Defense Wilson faces anticipated stiff senatorial questioning about arms fund reductions.

He was almost certain to be asked, also, about what Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said was an administration decision to whack about 30 per cent off the closely related atomic energy program. Cole, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the cut would not curtail weapons development, but would slow up work on atomic power for ships, planes and peacetime uses.

Grilled 8 Hrs. a Day, Newsman Says

AP's Oatis Describes Treatment by Czechs

NEW YORK (AP)—William N. Oatis says he was questioned many times for as much as eight hours a day during a two-month period before his "espionage' trial in Communist Czechoslovakia.

The 39-year-old Associated Press correspondent, who returned yesterday to the United States after spending 25 months in a Prague prison, had no announcement plans for today.

But he has indicated there are two things high on his agenda for the new days of freedom—first, an effort to regain the lost moments of separation from his wife Laurabelle; and, second, a study of the record of his trial.

Oatis was freed by the Czechs Saturday. He had been serving a 10-year sentence for engaging in what the Communists called "espionage" while working as an Associated Press correspondent in Prague.

The slight, bespectacled newsman met with reporters in an hour-long news conference at New New Yorks International Airport yesterday shortly after his arrival by plane from Germany. He faced the newsmen with his wife at his side following a brief, semiprivate reunion with her aboard the plane.

Although speaking at length on many phases of his experiences, Oatis declined at times to answer questions or to go into details. He indicated that he himself was not fully acquainted with all aspects of his case.

He spoke of his treatment by his Czech jailers, saying they had effective methods of obtaining confessions. However, he added that to the best of his knowledge no drugs were used on him. He said:

"They gave me about 10 injections which they said were sugar solution and vitamins to build up my weight—and I'm convinced they were. I felt no effects from these injections whatsoever.

"They also put me under a sun lamp to give me a tan. I think they wanted me to look good at the trial."

Oatis added that he contracted tuberculosis and that he was given "40 pills a day until I got well."

His desire to look again at the record was evidenced in a number of instances during the news conference. He said it frankly was hard for him to decide he were justly arrested as a violator of Czech law and added:

"In certain things it could be considered from their point of view that there were violations. They look at things differently.

"I'll put it this way—in their country, practicing journalism as we know it, it could come under suspicion of espionage under their laws."

Other instances of his hesitation to answer all questions came in

A 31-year-old Bucyrus man is held by the Marion County sheriff's office for investigation in connection with the theft of more than a thousand dollars worth of tools, jewelry, guns and other items found in his possession and believed to have been "acquired" by him over a period of several months.

Burglary charges are expected to be filed against him after further questioning today, Sheriff Glenn Obenour indicated.

After being stopped early Sunday morning by the sheriff's office because he was driving his automobile with insufficient lights on E. Fairground St., William Dale Snavely admitted he had stolen some of the items found in his car, the sheriff reported.

Upon further questioning Snavely revealed he had other items in his home in Bucyrus. Later Sunday these items, the bulk of which had been stolen in Marion County, were recovered by sheriff's deputies.

Among the loot found in Snavely's car and home by the sheriff's office were the following items:

Pocket watches, wrist watches, stop watch, micrometers, clippers, .22 calibre pellet air pistol, cigaret lighters, plastic rim eye glasses, fountain pens, mechanical pencils, cameras, wallets, belts, pocket knives, electric razors, identification cards, photographs, piano tuning tools, mall saw, automobile spotlight, .410 single shot bolt action shotgun, .16 gauge shotgun, electric drill kit, fishing rods and reels, radio parts, socket wrench sets, hammer, fishing tackle box with tackle, shirt, shoes and trousers.

Snavely had been under surveillance by his office "for some time," Sheriff Glenn Obenour reported.

In checking over the list of stolen items, Snavely in most cases could not remember where he had taken them, Obenour said.

Two watches, a wallet, micrometers, and the piano tuning tools have already been identified by their owners.

The sheriff's office reported the piano tuning tools have been identified as belonging to Albert Ensminger, a piano repairman of Bucyrus. Also identified were a wrist watch, a stop watch, a wallet and micrometers, which were stolen from the trailer of Robert Rupert at Twin Oaks Trailer Park on April 11.

Some of the clothes have been identified as belonging to George Kirby Jr., of Richwood, the sheriff's office said.

Snavely has been employed at the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in Bucyrus, Sheriff Obenour said, and had worked part-time at the Bucyrus Ice Co.

Snavely, who claims he cannot remember where he got some of the loot, was to be questioned further this afternoon in the Marion police station.

Bray reminded the group of the Coliseum, two new schools, two additions to schools, the new hospital, which were built by taxes, and said "This is different. The new Y building, its furnishings

President On Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will ask Congress to extend the excess profits tax for six months beyond July 1,—the present expiration date.

He will also recommend individual income taxes be maintained at the present level for the rest of this year.

GOP congressional leaders reported after a conference with Eisenhower today that these are a among his planned fiscal proposals.

Eisenhower is to go on the radio tonight at 9:30 p. m., EST to give the nation the background of financial and defense problems leading to his decisions. The address will be broadcast on all major networks.

told Capt. Joseph McConnell Jr., the world's top jet ace, to fly no more combat missions over Korea. The California Sabre jet pilot killed his 14th, 15th and 16th MIGs yesterday.

McConnell, of Apple Valley, Calif., shot down three Communist MIGs over North Korea Monday to win the title of No. 1 jet ace from Capt. Manuel Fernandez Jr., of Miami, Fla., who has 14 kills.

Fernandez was grounded Monday, and both aces will leave for home within a few days, the Air Force said. Fernandez has flown 125 missions and McConnell 106.

Sabre jets prowling North Korean skies Tuesday spotted Communist MIGs in the distance, but Red pilots showed no desire to tangle, the Air Force said.

In six days of aerial combat ending Monday the Reds lost 36 MIGs and probably lost two. Sixteen were damaged.

Col. John W. Mitchell, Enid, Miss., commander of the 51st Fighter Wing, announced that McConnell soon would head for home following a conference at Fifth Air Force headquarters.

Phony Instructor Makes Good

Wooster Faculty, Student Body Fooled by Impostor

CLEVELAND (AP)—Last fall the College of Wooster hired a balding history instructor who spoke with a broad Oxford accent.

In the months that followed, it appeared the Presbyterian school of Wooster had made a splendid choice in 34-year old Robert Peters.

Students flocked to his classes, some even going to the same lecture twice because they enjoyed him so much.

He preached a sermon at a Wooster church and spoke before the city's Kiwanis Club on the coming coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Wooster Dean H. William Taeusch described him as "a personable man with a brilliant mind."

Today, the teacher sat in jail here, destined to be taken to Buffalo for a deportation hearing.

Immigration authorities arrested him in his apartment Friday night. J. Russell Bramblett, immigration service head here, said Peters, also known as Robert Parkins, was a native of Carlisle, Eng.

He entered Canada from Australia in 1948, and illegally crossed the border into the United States at Buffalo the following spring, spring, said Bramblett.

In January, 1950, Peters was permitted to return to Canada, but crossed the border again at Detroit in February, 1952, Bramblett added.

"ROBERT PETERS"

Dean Taeusch admitted the college "made a mistake" when it hired Peters to teach freshman a course in Western civilization.

When Peters applied personally for the job, which had been advertised through an employment agency, the college officals were so impressed with him that they hired him without further investigation.

First Woman to Crash Sonic Barrier

New Air Speed Record Is Set by "Jackie" Cochran

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's No. 1 woman pilot, 43-year-old Jacqueline Cochran, has achieved a much-cherished goal. She became yesterday the first of her sex to fly through the sonic barrier and surpass the speed of sound.

Racing around a 100-kilometer closed course near the bed of Rogers Dry Lake, only 300 feet above the sun-parched Mojave Desert, Miss Cochran was timed at 652.337 miles per hour.

National Aeronautical Association timers said she shattered the all-time jet record for a 100-kilometer course—635.686 m.p.h.—set in 1951 by Col. Fred Ascani, U. S. Air Force. She also surpassed the women's jet record of 534.375 m.p. established last December by Mme. Jacqueline Auriol, daughter-in-law of the President of France.

Miss Cochran, wife of financier Floyd B. Odlum, multimillionaire founder of one of the nation's largest investment trusts, had been training for several weeks for her assault on the sonic barrier. The man who helped her prepare for the test is Maj. Charles Yeager, the first pilot to fly faster than the speed of sound.

"Passing the sonic barrier, with its shock waves and other strange effects, was the most exciting and interesting experience in my 21 years of flying,' Miss Cochran told newsmen. "Just for good measure, I bettered the speed of sound twice yesterday. I don't expect the records I set to last long, however, for faster jet planes and more powerful engines already are showing up on the flight line."

Miss Cochran's plane on her record-shattering flight was a North American Aviation-licensed F86 Canadair, built in Montreal, Que.

Arrested at Hospital

He was arrested two days later on Marion City Hospital on warrants signed by Mrs. Lovell's husband. It was charged by Mrs. Lovell that Edington broke into her residence by using a large knife to pry open a window in her bedroom. He then attempted to attack her and when he laid the knife down on the bed she picked it up and stabbed him three times and he fled, she said.

A 24-hour a day police guard on Edington at the hospital was removed April 24 after a $2,000 bond was put up by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edington of the Milburn Ave. address. He was released from the hospital April 26.

The $2,000 bond was continued by the court.

Wind, Rain, Floods Harass Gulf States

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms today continued to range the rain-soaked and wind-pummeled Gulf states where four persons died Monday in tornadic winds and floods.

Midwest Canadian border states and the Southwest had fair weather.

Floods in Louisiana, some parts of which have had 12 inches of rain over the week end, have driven almost 2,000 families from their homes. Three small communities are virtually isolated by overflow waters. The Calcasieu River is expected to rise seven feet over flood stage.

The floods menaced the rice crop and ruined the cotton crop in some sections, caused livestock losses, forced schools to close, flooded highways and washed out bridges on many secondary roads.

Two children drowned at Lebeau trying to cross a water-filled ditch. A man drowned in a swollen bayou.

Two railroad section workers are missing after a landslide near Vidalia, La. Three fellow workers were dug out alive from tons of mud which buried them while they worked on a previous washout.

Girl Improving After Mishap

Driver of Car Which Hit Her Fined $50

Nine-year-old Frances Shoemaker of near Cardington—struck by a car and seriously injured as she alighted from a school bus last Friday afternoon—is reported improving steadily at Morrow County Hospital today.

First reported in serious condition with a brain concussion, possible skull fracture, fractured pelvis, broken right leg, and dislocated right hip, she is reported in "fairly good" condition today by hospital spokesmen.

Meanwhile, the driver of the car which struck her, William French Jr., 27, of St. Louis, Mo. has been released from the Morrow County jail.

He was taken before Cardington Mayor Don Healea Monday on a charge of passing a stopped school bus, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

He was held in the jail until yesterday on an open charge by Morrow County Prosecutor Gail B. Weller, pending the outcome of the girl's condition.

French was arrested by state highway patrolmen from the Marion sub-station after the accident occurred at 4:05 p.m. Friday on Route 42, one mile south of Cardington. The school bus, driven by Owen Blowers, 60, of Cardington had stopped to discharge the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shoemaker and the oncoming French car struck her as she crossed the highway.

Witnesses reported she was struck by the front bumper and grill of the car and thrown several feet into the air.

A state law in Ohio makes it illegal to pass a school bus stopped to discharge passengers when approaching it from either direction.

K of C Would Keep Movie Censorship

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Knights of Columbus favor keeping movie censorship in Ohio.

Delegates to the K of C's annual state convention went on record Monday opposing a bill in the state Legislature which would abolish film censorship.

The delegates, representing 152 local councils and 50,000 members, also voted to ask the Legislature to make Good Friday a legal holiday and to request the federal government to insert the phrase "In God We Trust" on all postage stamps.

The Catholic organization elected Larry Rogers of Warren to its

BRT Postpones B&O Strike Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Mediation Board said today the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has agreed to postpone a strike scheduled for Saturday morning on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A board spokesman said the independent union agreed to postpone the walkout to give time for the board to try to effect a settlement. A mediator will be assigned to try to work out a solution.

A number of grievances were described as the cause of the dispute.

The union announced in Cleveland the walkout had been authorized for 6 a. m. EST Saturday.

Jean Dixon Elected President of Group

Teen Club members elected officers Monday night in a meeting at the Moose Lodge Hall. The group is working for a community swimming pool.

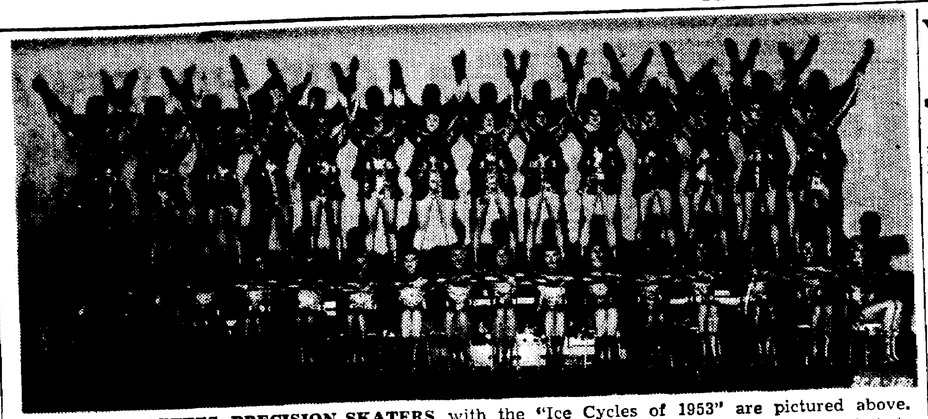
Jean Dixon, who organized the Marion teenage group, and served as temporary president, was elected president; Joe Merchant, vice president; Ted Bibler, secretary; Bill Phillips, treasurer; Dick Wilson, chaplain; Diane Gettys, Dixie Cramer and Grace Jevas, trustees; Charles Neuman, entertainment chairman; and Larry Coy, advertising chairman.

The preliminary architectural rendition of the proposed pool drawn up for the sponsoring adult group, the Marion Community Recreation Center, was shown at the Teen Club meeting.

The teenagers who have been selling tickets for the Wednesday night performance of the Ice Cycles show at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum, are also sponsoring ticket sales downtown at Schaffner's Furniture Store, Markert and Lewis, Speigel's, Dr. W. Neil Price's office, Shellhorn's Music Store, and Best Jewelers. Tickets sold by the teenagers are priced at $1 and can be exchanged for reserved seat tickets at Gallaher's Drug Store or the National City Bank.

Games enjoyed at the Monday night meeting were in charge of Mrs. Loretta McArthur, an adult advisor for the club.

Future activities of the club are expected to include the organization of a drill team show under the direction of Jim Merchant, who was recently discharged from the Air Force.



THE ICE CYCLETTES, PRECISION SKATERS, with the "Ice Cycles of 1953" are pictured above. They will appear in the ice show which opens at the Coliseum Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. One of their outstanding production numbers in the show is "The State of the Union." The Ice Cycles will come to Marion with a special train of nine cars, a cast of 100, plus a technical crew of fifty or more. Feature of this year's show is Walt Disney's "Cinderella," which is one of nine elaborate production scenes. There will be some 20 other novelty numbers, plus the individual solo, pair and team skating.

Police Report One Mishap, Three Arrests

One minor traffic accident and three traffic arrests in Marion during the past 24 hours were reported today by Marion police.

Cars driven by Gale L. Lambert, 31, of near Forest and Robert D. Smith, 18, of 889 Adams St. were damaged in a mishap at Silver and Leader Sts. at 4:12 p.m. Monday. Police reported both cars were traveling west on Silver and the left front fender of Lambert's car and right front fender of Smith's car were smashed when they collided.

Two of those arrested for traffic violations were charged with reckless driving. They were Ross H. Allinder, 64, of 451 Patterson St., arrested at 7:23 p.m. Monday on W. Columbia St. and Thomas B. Welch, 17, of 905 Wilson Ave., arrested at 7:40 a.m. today on E. Center St.

The other traffic arrest was on a charge of speeding filed against Willis R. Long, 20, of near Cardington. He was arrested at 1:34 a.m. today on Mt. Vernon Ave.

4 Korean Vets Initiated By Caledonia Post

A class of four Korean veterans was initiated into the American Legion at a meeting of Caledonia Post No. 401, American Legion, Saturday night in the Caledonia K of P hall. A degree team from Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, of Marion was in charge. It was composed of Fred Thacker, D. J. MacDonald, Gerald Messenger, Richard Burklew, Louis Dutton, Don Williams and Richard Moore.

The new members are Robert Ault, Don Myers, Gerald Goodman and Charles Coldren.

Appointed to serve on the nominating committee were Clarence Messmore and Lowell Douce. Named as the Boys State delegate from the post was Paul Layman. John Herrod was elected delegate and Lowell Douce, alternate, to the Sixth District Legion convention to be held June 7 in Marion.

Fred Thacker, Sixth District vice commander, gave a short talk in which he announced plans for the Marion County convention to be held May 28 at Prospect, the district convention, and the department convention set for June 24-26 in Cleveland. D. J. MacDonald spoke to the group and told members of their duty to the Legion.

A committee, Robert Longacre and Wayne Weir, was appointed to repair the honor roll at the village square.

Plans were completed for the Memorial Day program to be held Sunday, May 31, at the Caledonia Cemetery, beginning at 2 p.m. Speaker will be C. William O'Neill, attorney general of Ohio.

Following the meeting, a potluck supper was served by the Auxiliary to the post.

Request For Gas Heating Freeze Denied

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The state utilities commission in an unprecedented action today ordered the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and its wholesale customers to furnish gas to Ohio on equal basis with other states.

The order thus denied the company's request for a freeze on new installations.

The company had told the commission it anticipated a gas shortage next winter.

The commission found Ohio uses about half the gas sold in the seven state area of the Columbia Gas System, parent company of Ohio Fuel Gas. The commission said, therefore, it was ordering Ohio Fuel and its wholesale customers to install in Ohio during the coming winter the same number of gas space heating devices Columbia installs in the rest of its territory.

The order was explained this way:

A St. Louis chemical company has developed a water-soluble fertilizer said to minimize the risk of leaf or grass burn.

Yoshida Still Jap Premier

TOKYO (AP)—Aging Shigeru Yoshida today was chosen prime minister of Japan by the House, which handed him two stinging defeats Monday.

The Liberal party leader polled 204 votes against 116 for Mamoru Shigemitsu, leader of the rival Progressive party.

Yoshida, 75, has headed four Japanese cabinets since World War III. He is regarded as pro-American.

Seventy-seven members of the House abstained on the final roll call. Most were members of the Rightist Socialist party.

Monday a coalition of four opposition parties, including the Rightist Socialists, swept Yoshida's political foes into the key jobs of House speaker and vicespeaker. If the coalition had held through today's vote for prime minister Yoshida could have been unseated.

His election as premier gives Yoshida authority to form his fifth cabinet, but most political observers predicted rough sledding ahead.

Last March Yoshida's opponents pushed through a vote of censure after the Prime Minister called a member of the Diet a "bakayaro' (fool).

Instead of resigning the wily old Premier dissolved the Diet—a procedure permitted under Japan's constitution—and took his case to the people.

A Little Rock, Ark., movie added automatic washing machines so women could do their laundry while seeing the show.

Library's Storage Problem Solved

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The staff of the suburban Amherst-Williamsville Public Library had a book storage problem: where to put them while redecorating the library's interior?

Word got around. Members began borrowing by the stack until most shelves were emptied. One family took 50.

Association Names Pollak Official

Carl L. Volkman, manager of construction materials and director of the Pollak Steel Company of Cincinnati, was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Rail Steel Bar Association in the annual meeting of the association at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., it was announced at the office of the company's Marion plant today.

The Rail Steel Bar Association maintains offices in Chicago and represents 21 American and Canadian steel mills specializing in the rolling and fabricating of hot rolled carbon bars and shapes from rail steel for concrete construction, agricultural and industrial steel products. An extensive research and development program is also maintained by the Association.

Water in the basement was an advantage in pioneer homes of the United States. Built directly over a brook or spring, many homes thus included a built-in springhouse, predessor of the refrigerator.

Council to Take Up City Traffic Problems Tonight

A heated discussion appears in the offing tonight at Marion City Hall when City Council holds a public meeting to decide whether or not to continue the present parking ban on the south side of Church St.

Also up for reconsideration by Council, Mayor Harold F. Robinson said today, will be the Belknap case. The mayor again took the stand that it will be strictly up to Council to decide whether or not to approve a Planning Commission recommendation to grant Leo Belknap a permissive use permit of a lot at Tully and Oak Sts. for construction of a new print shop. A Council committee had sent the case back to the planning commission for a new hearing, but Mayor Robinson said he would not call a third hearing on the matter.

A discussion may also develop on legislation passed at last Monday's council meeting on the number and location of school hour traffic lights.

Likely to draw the most attention of any of the three items, however, will be the Church St. parking ban issue.

Uncle Cecil

INEZ ROBB

It is the heartfelt advice of one woman (not me, this time!) to any young man or woman on the prowl for a job to avoid, if possible, having a famous relative in the family even as he would avoid the plague. As for two — that way lies madness.

This advice comes from a successful business woman who loves both her famous relatives but could kill them from time to time—especially those times when someone exclaims breathlessly, "Why, you're the sister of Agnes de Mille, aren't you?" or, "Oh, so you must be the niece of Cecil B. de Mille!"

MARGARET de Mille is indeed the sister of Agnes, probably the most famous of American choreographers. And she indubitably is the niece of Cecil B. de Mille, the man who invented the words "upper-spectacle" and "colossal."

Miss de Mille, as fashion coordinator of one of New York's largest stores, Bloomingdale's, is a celebrity in her own right in the metropolitan fashion world. But she got to this top rung in the fashion ladder by concealing the awful truth that she was related to celebrities.

"Famous persons are nice to have around the house and exciting to be with," this pretty, vivacious woman said the other day at luncheon, "but in terms of furthering a career for yourself, they can be hell!

"First of all, they give you an inferiority complex," said this voice of experience.

"Second, the world expects you to be a carbon copy of the celebrity and, when you are not, ticks you off as a moron.

"And third, everyone you work with automatically has a chip on his shoulder for fear you'll throw your relative's weight around! The result is you have to climb twice as hard to get anywhere."

MAGGIE, as Miss de Mille is known to her family and friends, started climbing in her junior year at Barnard College when, an honor student, she decided to string along with the family and try a theatrical career.

"I had walk-on parts in two plays the Theater Guild sent on the road," Maggie said. "But it soon became apparent, at least to me, that I couldn't simultaneously act and eat—at least, not on what I earned."

toes and Uncle Cecil was directing still another super-spectacle, Maggie went down to Macy's and got herself a job on its executive training squad, denying vigorously with every breath that she was in any way related to the above.

For a while, Maggie wavered between fashion editing on a magazine or two and merchandising.

DURING World War II, she headed up the pricing section of the accessories division of OPA. After the war, she went back to merchandising and Bloomingdale's and is so successful that she has been tapped by New York University to teach courses in retailing and fashion coordination in 1953-54.

By Inez Robb

"Fashion and show business have a lot in common," Maggie said. "Both show people and fashion people are hams at heart."

In private life, Maggie is Mrs. Albert Kaplan. Her husband is a key man in the foreign trade division of the Mutual Security Administration. Both Maggie and Mr. Kaplan are long-time friends of President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

At long last, Maggie thinks Uncle Cecil has had a proper taste of how it feels to live always in the shadow of celebrated relatives. Recently when Uncle Cecil was introduced to the President, Mr. Eisenhower exclaimed:

"Oh, so you're Maggie's uncle!"

Upward Trend Noted In Bucyrus Building

BUCYRUS — A continuous upswing in building activity has been noted in Bucyrus since Jan. 1, according to statistics released today by Mrs. Anita Deisler, city clerk.

In the past four months, permits have been issued for construction valued at $364,050, compared with only $112,150 spent during the first four months of 1952.

During April, 23 permits were issued with a total valuation of $150,000 against only $26,250 in April, 1952. April permits included a $52,000 addition to the Swan Rubber Company's reclaim plant, 12 for new homes, two new garages and nine remodeling projects.

Atomic Power Development To Be Delayed

Economy Drive Will Affect All But Bombs, Submarine Engine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eisenhower administration economies in the atomic energy program will postpone construction of nuclear-powered aircraft and ships and will delay development of peacetime atomic power.

But there will be no cutbacks in atomic weapons or power plants for atomic submarines, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said yesterday in announcing that the budget for the year beginning July 1 will carry cuts "on the order of 30 per cent" under the $1,600,000,000 recommended by former President Truman.

Cole is chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, which keeps watch on the nation's atomic program.

Despite his assurances that the administration will ask sufficient funds to "carry on the weapons phase of the program without any curtailment," the decision seemed certain to stir up the same kind of congressional criticism which followed the announcement that new Air Force funds would be cut by five billion dollars.

Cole announced few details. The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) budget was scheduled for presentation, behind closed doors, to the House Appropriations Committee today.

Cole's committee yesterday heard AEC officials outline cuts under the Truman budget figures aggregating about 480 million dollars. Cole said he believed the figures had been reviewed by the National Security Council, the nation's top strategic planning group headed by President Eisenhower.

Cole told newsmen the reductions would mean:

1. Postponement of the construction of reactors—the power plants—for atom-powered aircraft and aircraft carriers. Research and development on these projects will continue "pretty much as planned," he added.

2. "Some curtailment in the studies and work' on development of a reactor for industrial use, which Cole said is directly related to the development of power for surface ships.

3. No curtailment or elimination of the AEC's big new billion-dollar plant at Portsmouth, O., and no change in the construction of two submarine power plants, now proceeding at "full tilt."

"This is a very minimum program and any further cuts would materially affect the program," Cole said.

Murder in Italy has decreased sharply in recent years to about an average of three a day.

Bucyrus Judge Overrules New Trial Motion

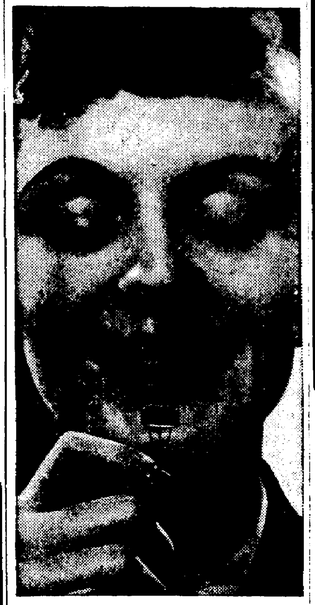
BUCYRUS — Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll has overruled a motion for a new trial in the contested will action of Mrs. Margaretta Flannery of Bucyrus, against Mrs. Margaret Hipp of Galion, executrix of the estate of Mrs. Maude T. Flannery, late of Galion.

Motion for the new trial was filed recently by Mrs. Hipp, as executrix of the estate, and as an individual. A jury last month ruled that the purported last will of Mrs. Flannery was not valid.

DIES IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND (AP) — Miss Julia Doyle, whose brother was killed fighting for the Union Army in the Civil War, died Monday in the Alvernia rest home at 91.

HEAR AT LAST



This miss is exclaiming over a transistor, the tiny electronic discovery that may change our world. Used to benefit the hard of hearing for the first time, it has resulted in the smallest Sonotone in history. The heart of the transistor is a minute speck of germanium. The device uses much less electrical power than a vacuum tube, slashing battery costs for hearing aid users. One of the batteries used with the new Sonotone will last over six months.

For details of this new development, just call or write Sonotone of Marion, 207 S. Prospect St., Marion. Phone 2-1536. No obligation.

Wife Fails to Enjoy GI's Sense of Humor

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP)—Mrs. Wilbur Resler's humor was as scant as the panties she found in her husband's pocket.

He thought it would be a good joke to let her find them there but had to admit in court yesterday "It didn't turn out like I thought."

The soldier, stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., paid a $100 fine for disorderly conduct amended from assault and battery.

Mrs. Resler, who obtained the warrant, also showed up with a black eye, explaining she had dropped the panties on the floor in front of her husband without a word.

"Then, he got mad and started to beat me."

The name of the famous diamond can be spelled Kohinor, Kohinoor, or Kohinur and means "mountain of light."

Budget Reform

President Eisenhower and the figure wizards he took to Washington have all they can do about the budget without tackling fundamental reform.

But if they survive the snafu bequeathed to them by half a generation of unbalanced budgets and the spend-elect technique of the Roosevelt-Truman era, there are some basic things they should change.

There should be one budget for current spending and another for carryover spending. The present custom of combining the two is absurd. If conceals what happens each year.

The government's spending year should coincide with its taxing year—and the taxing and spending year of its citizens. The use of July 1 as the beginning of the government's spending year and Jan. 1 as the beginning of its taxing year makes no sense to its citizens.

The budget should be translated by an index to show whether spending is rising or falling in terms of wealth, as opposed to baloney dollars. This would be a key reform. It would reveal whether or not the federal bureaucracy is out of control—the signal that the end of representative democracy is imminent. There is no other purpose of having a budget.

A Year to Remember

Fame is within reaching distance of 1953. This could be the year of the big dandelions.

Dandelions always thrive on rainfall. Even when there is minimum moisture, the dandelions survive, thanks to that long root.

But the part that comes up when a dandelion is uprooted is only the beginning. The rest breaks off. All of this underground growth collects moisture and nutriment form transfer to the visible plant.

In 1953, dandelions frequently grew above ground to a diameter of 18 inches. The biggest ones had to be lifted from the ground with two trucks. Care had to be exercise in filing up the holes they left, lest children fall into them. Two dandelions constituted a mess of greens for a family of three with enough left over to feed a flock of six laying hens. The blooms were

Why Would Attlee Admit Red China to U.N.?

President Eisenhower thinks it was most unwise for Clement Attlee, former prime minister or Great Britain, to declare that Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations as soon as a Korean armistice is signed. The President's view can be said to include Prime Minister Churchill insofar as the latter may have indicated agreement with Attlee.

This is the real news of what has been happening in Washington in the last few days—and not the exaggerated importance given by some sections of the press to the Attlee-McCarthy exchange of political compliments.

For several weeks now a deliberate effort has been made in this country by the "left wingers"—and now it is taken up in the European press—to give the impression that the most important thing in America is the method by which the Wisconsin senator is fighting Communism.

As a matter of fact Sen. McCarthy never had and never will have the influence on international policy which the "left wing" so persistently seeks to attribute to him.

The drive on McCarthy is an effort to split the Republican party and leave Eisenhower helpless in Congress on domestic issues. The "left wingers" are mostly Democrats.

What Mr. Attlee said about the American Constitution and his gibe asking if McCarthy or Eisenhower were more powerful in America in making international policy was in bad taste but it certainly seems to have been given far more attention than the real news of the Attlee speech.

That news was his announcement that Red China should be admitted to the U. N. and Churchill's acquiescence despite the fact that Red China was denounced formally as an aggressor by the United Nations in a resolution voted for by Great Britain early in 1951.

President Eisenhower's countercomment at his press conference last week has been given a meaning that is inaccurate. This correspondent has obtained a memorandum from a reporter who has since revised his notes to conform exactly with the stenographic transcript maintained at the White House. Permission is never given the press to quote the president directly but only in indirect discourse. Here is the memorandum:

"The question asked by the President was this: 'Getting back to Attlee and Churchill, what is your opinion of their recommendations still holds. With us, he continued, because there has been a different meaning developed in this country on this word—recognition of another (government)—we have to view the case differently. Mr. Eisenhower said he did not consider that it has become a rift between British and American policy, as it might appear on the surface—because we don't reach the same conclusion on it.

"The President said that he personally therefore would not say—certainly he would not say at this moment—that he believed that admittance should follow an armistice."

It's from the last paragraph that some press reports were erroneously derived and the mistaken impression given that Mr. Eisenhower would favor recognition of Communist China and admission to the U. N. at a date later than the signing of an armistice in Korea.

What Mr. Eisenhower undoubtedly meant was that if he were Churchill or Attlee and believed in admitting Red China to the U.N.—which he does not—he certainly would not say so at this moment because to do so would have a damaging effect on the Korean truce negotiations and on relations between America and Britain.

This interpretation of Mr. Eisenhower's remarks is also what two top Republican leaders in the House and Senate have given this correspondent after being apprised of the exact wording of the President's statements at his press conference.

This writer had a conversation at Paris just a year ago with Gen. Eisenhower and the general reviewed then the same historic argument about recognition and expressed his keen understanding of the British viewpoint just as he did last week. When asked pointedly whether, since the Red China government had committed aggression, he would favor her admission to the United Nations, he uttered an emphatic negative.

It is more important, therefore, now to find out why Messrs. Churchill and Attlee favor admission of Red China to the U. N. after a Korean armistice than what they think of Sen. McCarthy. For the McCarthy issue is just a convenient smokescreen that could continue to obscure the real issues.

These are:

Shall an aggressor government fight its way into the U. N. and shall the British government—if there is no Korean truce—continue sending, in the future as in the past, war supplies to Soviet Russia

Spies Among Refugees Quickly Spotted

By Norman Lindhurst

BERLIN

A vast Red spy network is being uncovered by Allied intelligence officers in their screening of thousands of "refugees" who claim to have "escaped" from the East.

How do you tell a spy from a refugee? The answer is that unless the refugee breaks down and confesses, or is caught redhanded—you can't. Not for certain.

Which is just why the Allied job of screening the thousands of refugees who still are flooding into West Berlin is so difficult.

So far, approximately 300,000 East Germans have "excaped" into the Allied zone. Or so the refugees maintain.

Now, however, Allied intelligence officers have good reason to believe that the Russians have sent

At present the unsuspecting agents are being used as bait to trap the more dangerous spy masters. The West Germans, for example, first located the "volcano" spy ring through trailing suspected Red agents who had been infiltrated by the Russians as "refugees."

The volcano ring was described by Vice Chancellor Franz Blucher as the largest Soviet spy ring to be unearthed in West Germany since 1945.

Nevertheless, whether they are used as "bait" or arrested on the spot, the refugees have first to give away to the Allied screening officers the fact that they aren't what they make out to be. And they aren't going to give away that sort of thing if they can help it.

At present there are 28 screen-

So I fled."

That's all. Just that much and the screening official has made up his mind she's a Red agent. Obvious to anyone you may say. No refugee would come out with "Communism destroys the dignity of the individual. . . "but suppose you're wrong, suppose, frightened of rejection, the refugee tries to make sure of asylum by using just those sort of phrases. It often happens just like that.

The whole crux of the matter lies in the fact that the questioners aren't untrained. All of them are East zone refugees themselves and know the Soviet zone like the backs of their hands. They also have before them the latest reports from the German and Allied intelligence agencies and from the resistance groups back in East

There's a real novelty on the airwaves . . . a program on which the listeners and viewers are gripped by a performer who is not even in the act . . . It is the Arthur Godfrey program (or programs). Godfrey is in the Massachusetts General Hospital for a hip operation and a lot of top entertainers are doing a good job substituting for him on video and radio; but, even as the fans applaud these stand-ins, you know that their hearts belong to Arthur . . . And their minds, no matter how good these performers may be, are on the "redhead" in a hopsital cot in Boston. (Arthur really has his audience "on his hip.")

There are long-time Godfrey fans who insist they see Godfrey in the act when the standins are doing the show, and their chant is:

Last night I saw upon the air
An airwave man who wasn't there;
He wasn't there again today . . .
Oh yeah! That's what the doctors say.

the size of chrysanthemums. Each seed puff contained upward of 1,000,000 seeds, all of which will germinate the next time it rains for 40 days and nights.

That was the way things were with dandelions in the spring of 1953. It was their year of years.

Giant Firecracker

Criticism by atomic scientists of army experiments to determine how close to an A-bomb explosion troops can survive is overdue—and over-optimistic.

If the scientists hope to put a stop to the experimenting before someone gets hurt needlessly, they have failed to comprehend the compulsion which causes army officials to move troops closer and closer to the center of the blast.

The A-bomb is the giant firecracker of modern times. A lot of grown-up boys are having the time of their life playing with it—seeing what it will do under all conditions—seeing how short a fuse they can put on it—testing it under water, exposing it inside a piece of pipe, burying it in the ground and lobbing it through the air.

Eventually, when the history of the early atomic age is written, some of the things done with nuclear fission at the outset will be as quaint and foolish as some of the things done with early automobiles and early airplanes. They will become a part of the folklore, and future generations will chuckle heartily over them. This assumes there will be future generations, and there probably will be, though some of the current antics make it seem doubtful.

Budget Allegory

Once upon a time, there was a head of a household who told his family that it would have to pare its expenses and should start right now. The nasty old banker who held a mortgage on the house was tired of being stalled off.

So all the members of the family started to look for cheaper ways to do all the things they had been accustomed to do.

They reported they could not find enough of these to make it worthwhile because they already were being as prudent as they could be expected to be. They were buying domestic instead of imported caviar, for example.

The head of the household, who loved his family dearly, conveyed this information to the nasty old banker who held the mortgage.

The NOB was not impressed. He said to the head of the household:

"Look, mister, I am not interested in the efficiency with which your family spends money. I am interested only in the efficiency with which I look after my job, which in this case is to keep from being played for a sucker. You go back to your family and tell it it will have to give up enough of its efficient ways of spending money to pay the mortgage. Quit trying to spoof a crusty old penny-pincher like me with the idea that spenders are making the supreme sacrifice when they buy domestic caviar instead of imported caviar when in fact they should not be buying caviar at all."

And that's what the head of the household did, and his budget was balanced, though his family yelled its head off when it had to give up caviar entirely.

opinion of their recommendations that Communist China be admitted to the United Nations' Security Council?'

"The answer that can be published in indirect discourse is as follows: The President said that the reporters must remember that different nations have diferent interpretations on what recognition of a nation means. He said that ever since Woodrow Wilson's time in this country we have more or less gone on the theory that recognition means also tacit approval. He added that at one time, as is well known, rcognition meant just that—just the recognition of the fact that there was a de facto ruler of an important segment of the world.

"The President expressed the thought that in certain other countries that opinion—that viewpoint—which are then trans-shipped to Red China to help kill American and British soldiers?

An answer to one of these questions has just been given by the Scripps-Howard newspapers in an editorial which declares that it is time for President Eisenhower to inform "our appeasement-minded allies that the United States will not accept Red China as a member of the United Nations," and the allies "should be told that the day the Reds walk in, we walk out."

The editorial adds that "If the Communists can shoot their way into this organization it isn't any place for us."

There is a movement starting in Congress to express that very same point of view in a joint resolution of both Houses.

New York Herald Tribune Syndicate

hundreds of the refugees in purposely—a factor which has been suspected all along—and that, out of the total figure of refugees, approximately 30,000 are Red agents.

Not that these suspected Red agents have been arrested. They are merely kept under watch and may not be picked up for months. Most of them were passed across the border as "refugees" under Soviet orders to organize sabotage and fifth column activities in West German industry and communication centers.

Both the West German government and the Allies reason that it is better to spot these agents and keep them under watch than to round them up and then have to start the detection process all over again.

ing committees sitting in small, bare rooms at No. 85 Kaiserdamm—the central refugee screening headquarter. Each day these committees tackle as many as 1,500 cases, depending on the refugee flow.

To listen to one of these screening interviews going on is to wonder how anyone can ever tell that a refugee isn't a refugee. To the untrained questioner all the stories are so convincing.

Take the case of the stout, forty-ish brunette, still retaining some pretentions of good looks, who stands in the room now. Imagine yourself listening to her story:

"I fled to the West because I found life under Communism intolerable. Communsim destroys the dignity of the individual and makes a machine of him. I resisted this suffocation of freedom and was threatened with arrest.

Germany.

In addition they have the experience of listening to hundreds of refugees week after week. Now they are almost infallible in picking out the fakes. The whole thing is over and done with—one way or another, agent or refugee—in 15 minutes.

As for the brunette, the screening official proved correct in his 60-second decision. The refugee who found life under Communism "intolerable" had only a few weeks before been an active East zone communist worker and a local leader in the Bund Deutsche Frauen (German Woman's league). She was so much a Red that she had even sacked her husband, a factory worker and a non-Communist, as an encumbrance to her party career. She had filtered into Berlin's West zone for reasons far from fear.

Cleaning a Barn

By TRUMAN TWILL

Then there are those who say it would be all right to live in the country when the weather is nice but what do you do on rainy days.

Or in the case of a weekend farmer who must accomplish all major miracles on Sunday, what do you do on a rainy Sunday?

You clean the barn.

That is what you do whenever you have energy to spend and no place else to spend it. You set your jaw in your version of a martyred expression and go forth to clean the barn.

The job is never done. By the time any particular barncleaning project has run its course, the barn needs cleaning again. This is as true of the little barn at our house as it is of the huge barns maintained by real farmers.

Aside from the sanitary cleaning which never ends, there is a special kind of cleaning that goes with barns. It is the process of dealing with all the objects which pause in the barn on their slow progress into oblivion.

A barn is the perfect repository for articles which may or may not prove to be useful sometime but in the meantime must be preserved. They are the traditional storehouse for sleighs, flails, winnowing machines, obsolete grindstones, sets of broken and hardened harness, rusty scythes, iron kettles, nearly-worn-out hand tools and implements which might come in handy sometime.

They contain three-legged milking stools, horse collars, saddles, coils of rope, pulleys, rusty pitchforks, scraps of walnut and cherry wood stored away against the making of a piece of rare furniture which never was made, lengths of chain, coils of steel cable for making flood gates, and broken corn shellers.

If they haven't been cleaned too scrupulously, they contain husking pegs, copper pots, pot hooks, steel wedges for splitting firewood, sieves, rusted traps and a horse's hat with holes cut out for the ears.

There also are horseshoes, a boxful of ice caulks, a feedbox with a glass-smooth hickory handle, a supply of binder twine, half a mile of baling wire and — reflecting the modern age — some cast-off automobile jacks, a set of tire chains, several sets of used spark plugs, some tire tools and the removable crank from a 1925 Essex.

All this is in addition to half a ton of dirt, chaff and odds and ends such as inevitably swirl and eddy into a barn when the doors are open. Strictly defined, a barn cleaning is for the purpose of getting rid of the dirt, chaff and odds and ends.

Since all barns have a door on each end, the technique is simply to open the doors, whistle up a wind, stir up the clutter and keep things moving. After several hours of this, enough will have moved out of doors to warrant a declaration that the barn has been cleaned again, thank God, whether or not anything has been disturbed in its passage from the past into the future.

In brief, the more a barn is cleaned, the more it needs cleaning, which never is complete ex-

Gifts from President's Widow

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the World War I president, has given most of her husband's books, papers and other historic data to the public but still clings to the typewriter upon which he so constantly relied.

Now in her early 70s and living in comparative retirement in a gracious mansion on S Street here, she was Edith Bolling Galt, widow of a wealthy Washington jeweler, when she was married to Wilson in December 1918.

Wilson's library, totaling more than 9,000 volumes, for which the Library of Congress constructed a special, walnut-paneled room under her direction, was Mrs. Wilson's most generous gift. The library, which consists of books used by the President back to his childhood, was housed until 1946 in the S Street residence.

Mostly a "working library," it includes books Wilson studied as an undergraduate at Princeton University in the late '70s, law books he used at the University of Virginia in 1880 and books he used while practising law at Atlanta, Ga., in 1882 and through his teaching days at Princeton, his years as president of the University and later as President of the nation.

Mrs. Wilson added some 200 volumes of her own to this collection—books about her husband sent to her by friends and biographers. In addition, she has given the library's manuscript division a collection of Wilson papers she has been building up over the past two decades, another group of some 10,000 items.

Mrs. Wilson also has donated many articles to the Smithsonian Institution. Her latest contribution consisted of gifts she received as First Lady. These include a piece of rare Venetian rose point lace, presented by the Italian delegation at the Versailles peace treaty conference, to which she accompanied her husband in 1918-'19, and a fan with angels of peace routing the dragons of war, worked in lace, the gift of the late Queen Elizabeth of Belgium on her visit to the U. S. in 1920.

Mrs. Wilson's jet and sequin-embroidered black velvet inaugural gown long ago took its place in the museum's collection of presidents' wives' gowns.

Because of illness, and more recently a sprained ankle, the still handsome former first lady appears infrequently in public—mostly to attend functions at the Washington Cathedral, where the body of her husband is interred, or at the Congressional Club, of which she is an honorary member.

Dance at Eagles Hall Ends Season For Marion Club

Forty-two couples danced to music by Don Lister and his orchestra when the 20-30 Dance Club closed its 1952-53 season with a semi-formal dance Saturday night in the Eagles Hall. Flowers decorated the walls, and at the tables vari-colored carnations were placed on large paper lace place mats along with candles.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gallatin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rice, Mr. and Mrs. James Thornberry, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Maynard, Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Krider, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Messenger, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Todd, Miss Janice Stanley, Donald Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards.

On the host and hostess committee for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. Carroll Spain, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miner, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder.

Mrs. Russell Dripps, CCL Federation president, was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Sobditch, retiring president, and they were presented gifts in recognition of their service.

Communications were read from the federation announcing a buffet supper for May 25 in the community rooms of the West Town Branch, National City Bank, at which time federation officers will be installed. A letter from the Cancer Society was read, and one from the state president authorized two new books for reading by the members, "Angels Unaware," and "The Adopted Family." Mrs. Luse reported on the spring conference at Upper Sandusky held in April. Plans were presented by Mrs. Sinden for a picnic in the summer.

DISGUSTED

SHELBY, Miss. (UP) — D. J. Rhyne retired recently after serving as depot agent for the Illinois Central Railroad here for 51 years. He said he didn't quit because he was too old to work but because he "just got tired of sitting around and watching the trucks take all the business."

TWO YEARS OF WAITING END. Freed American newsman William Oatis, with his arm around his wife, Laurabelle, smiles for photographers at New York's Idlewild airport to show how happy he is to be home after being imprisoned in a Czech jail for two years. The Associated Press correspondent came in on a flight from Frankfurt, Germany.

Aid Society Discusses India Women's Work

India women's work was discussed when a Mother's Day tea and meeting was held by the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the rural Trinity Lutheran Church Thursday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Fred Leffler opened the program with an organ prelude, followed by songs by the group, scripture and prayer by the Rev. Wilbur Budke, a welcome by Mrs. Giles Hoch, two numbers by a quartet composed of Mrs. Donald Heiby, Mrs. David Lust, Mrs. George Lust and Mrs. Giles Hoch, a poem, "Mother's Victory," by Mrs. Kenneth Owings, a talk on "Where Are We Going?" by Mrs. LeRoy Fetter, presentation of life memberships to Mrs. Doyle Baumgardner and Mrs. B. C. Williams, and the Lord's Prayer by the group.

Guests were Mrs. Bertha Benzler, Mrs. Janie Lingrel, Mrs. Victor Campbell, Mrs. Harry Hoch, Mrs. Ed Dutt, Mrs. Joseph Mehaffey, Mrs. Earl Mehaffey, Mrs. Robert Uncapher, Mrs. Allen Dreyer, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Thad Kuenzli and Mrs. Wilbur Mochel.

APPOINTED CLERK

Employment of Mrs. Eunice Schaffner of 451 Wilson Ave. as an assistant clerk in the Marion Safety-Service Department was announced today by Ralph E. Forrest, director. Mrs. Schaffner was employed to fill a vacancy left by the promotion of Miss Irene Addison to the position of clerk. Miss Addison received the promotion on the resignation of Mrs. Donna Ehret, the former Miss Donna Davis, who was married in April.

Mayor to Welcome Ice Show Troupe After Parade

A welcome to the city will be extended members of the "Ice Cycles of 1953" by Mayor Harold F. Robinson Wednesday afternoon.

The ice show skaters are scheduled to arrive here Wednsday morning from Troy, O., where the show is now being presented.

The welcome will follow a motor parade arranged by the "Ice Cycles" staff and the Short-Ford Co. Stars of the show will ride in convertibles from the automobile company's show rooms on N. Main St. through the downtown area, beginning at 2 p.m. The mayor will ride in a car which is to be used to pace this year's 500 mile Indianapolis race.

The parade will end at the Courthouse, where Mayor Robinson will conduct a ceremony of welcome at 2:15 p.m. He will present Margaret Field, star of the show's "Cinderella" number, with a bouquet of flowers and she, in turn, will present him a gift on behalf of the troupe.

The "Ice Cycles" show will open at the Marion Coliseum at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Shows will be given each night through Sunday, when a matinee at 3 p.m. will also be held.

"Know Your Capitols"..

OHIO STATE CAPITOL COLUMBUS

This Capitol is one of the nation's outstanding examples of the Greek Revival style, the simplicity of this pure Doric structure gives it a most modern appearance, although its plans were drawn over a century ago. The cornerstone was laid in 1839, completed in 1861, cost $1,650,000. The Capitol proper is 504 feet long, 184 feet wide. Abraham Lincoln visited this Capitol on many occasions. Elaborately carved woods, marbles from many lands, paintings and sculpture by noted American artists adorn the interior. In the center of the inlaid marble floor (4,892 blocks) of the rotunda are 13 vari-colored marble blocks, each symbolical of the original States. Ohio, the "Buckeye" State, admitted to Union Feb. 19, 1803, (17th). State flower "Scarlet Carnation." Area, 41,040 square miles. 35th in size.

Women Voters Hear Reports On Convention

Activities of Year Reviewed; Program For New Year Listed

Reports of the state convention of the League of Women Voters were heard when the local league held a general meeting Wednesday night in the community room of the West Town Branch of the National City Bank.

Mrs. Robert Axe, newly-elected Marion League president, Mrs. Paul Wolf, and Mrs. B. N. Saltzman, delegates to the annual state convention in Toledo early this month, gave the reports.

Mrs. Axe presented the work of the state league as reviewed by Mrs. Werner Blanchard of Dayton, state president, who in her president's report evaluated the league campaign for a state constitutional convention in which 30 of the state's 52 leagues actively participated. Mrs. Blanchard cited the fact that not all groups acted on the issue, as proof that the League of Women Voters is not a regimented group and that the League recognizes the validity of freedom of action even under an adopted state program. She enumerated educational values of the campaign both to the public and to the league. She said that there is no doubt that the citizens learned a great deal about state government. In addition, definite interest was aroused in constitutional revision that will have far-reaching influence.

Presented Award

Of particular interest in Mrs. Blanchard's review of the state program was mention of the honor received by the League of Women Voters of Ohio in the form of an award from the Freedoms Foundation. The George Washington Honor Medal was presented for "A community program which contributed to freedom," namely the slides, "This Is My State," and a manual for action in the community. She reported that the slides were later used by the Ohio State University in the preparation of a movie film on the subject.

Mrs. Wolf, local chairman for the study of the state current agenda items, reported on the adoption by the convention of the year's items for study. These include a local survey of county government in relation to the laws of the state of Ohio in an effort to determine the solution of existing problems; a study of the original adoption of state items for study at the state convention.

Mrs. Harold Fetter reported on a conference on political effectiveness held in Indianapolis, Ind., in March where four members of the local league shared views and problems with other leagues of the district, one of 17 such conferences arranged by the National League.

Mrs. Salzman reported on a recent visit to the Ohio Legislature by 15 local members who attended various House and Senate committee hearings, and witnessed action taken in both houses on current legislative bills.

Mrs. Francis Wanda reported on an interview by league members with Jackson Betts of Findlay, district representative to Congress.

Mrs. Salzman, unit chairman was in charge of the meeting and was assisted by several members in serving light refreshments.

Cong. Betts To Speak At Grand Prairie

Annual Memorial Day services at the Grand Prairie Cemetery will be held Sunday, May 24. The program is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Plans for the program were completed at a meeting of the Grand Prairie Cemetery Association last Wednesday night. At this meeting, Clifford Campbell was appointed to serve as secretary to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Dwight Moore who resigned because of other interests.

Delivering the address will be Congressman Jackson E. Betts. A musical concert by the Morral High School and will precede the program. Included in the program will be the invocation by the Rev. Marvin Crabtree, pastor of the Morral Baptist Church; vocal solos by Mrs. DeJon Morral Hassell, accompanied on the accordion by Miss Ruth Bosley; introduction of the speaker by Lester D. Watts; brief remarks by Mr. Watts; reading of the honor roll by Mr. Campbell; and a closing military service by the American Legion Post of Nevada, under command of the past county commander, Charles Billings.

Decorating of the graves will be in charge of the Morral Boy Scout troop.

The program is under sponsorship of the Morral community, with Mr. Watts serving as general chairman.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

ganization of the state welfare department with emphasis on the mental health division; and an effort to find areas of agreement in the leagues of the state relating to proposed state constitutional amendments.

Mrs. Salzman reported on the main address of the convention, "Women, Issues, and Rationality," by Dr. Marshall Knappen of the political science department of the University of Michigan. The address stressed the importance of an informed citizenship and noted a slowly growing tendency in recent years for voters to decide issues in their intrinsic worth even where this means crossing party lines or in a disregard of immediate economic issues.

This is The News That Got Around Fast!

The New Packard CLIPPER

Each year word gets around that this or that car is "the buy."
This year it's the Packard CLIPPER—and here's why—

You are reading about an automobile that has been in the news since the first day it was introduced.

In the news as a new medium-priced line from Packard, America's oldest producer of fine cars.

In the news as a big car in styling, comfort, sturdiness, performance; the kind of car you'd like your family to ride in.

An idea for you—

Say you've got a new car in mind. You have a certain sum of money you can afford to pay for it. Maybe you're thinking that a small, low-priced car is good enough, or one of the other medium-priced cars. All right. Keep your convictions, but also keep an open mind.

Then, before you sign an order—pay a visit to your Packard CLIPPER dealer and give this new car a careful going-over, including a ride of your own choosing! You're in for the surprise of your life! First at the feel, comfort and power of this fine, strong, graceful car—and then at the price!

You'll find that this CLIPPER by Packard is practically in the same price league with dolled-up, low-priced cars.

Why not see your Packard CLIPPER dealer and learn for yourself why the men who know motorcar values best say the CLIPPER is "the buy" of the year.

In addition to the Clipper, PACKARD is building today a car so beautiful and fine that it is applauded everywhere as "America's new choice in fine cars." Ask the man who owns one—today!

Did you know that you can own a Packard CLIPPER 4-Door Sedan (illustrated above)
FOR ONLY $2616 Delivered in MARION, OHIO

9th Blast in Spring Series Jars Buildings 200 Miles Away

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An atomic blast powerful enough to shake buildings in Bishop, Calif., 200 miles away, flared over the Nevada Desert before dawn today.

The unusually bright shot also rattled buildings in this gambling community 75 miles from the proving ground, but there were no immediate reports of damage.

Police in Bishop said the shock wave came in two or three short jolts, rumbling like cannon shots, and were the strongest ever felt there.

The blast, ninth and next-to-last of the spring test series, was set off from a 300-foot tower at Yucca Flat, with 28 congressmen watching from the control center and 1,000 armed forces observers in trenches 4,000 yards away.

The shot, four times postponed, was primarily for scientific and observational purposes. The Atomic Energy Commission said 60 tests were conducted.

Besides military equipment and civilian defense structures, antibiotics provided by the Federal Food and Drug Administration were exposed to the burst. The drugs were tested for resistance to blast effects.

Forty - seven planes, including 12 Strategic Air Command B-50 bombers from Roswell, N. M., were in the air on various missions.

Military personnel included 600 troops from nearby Camp Desert Rock and 400 armed forces staff officers from all over the nation.

queries on whether he had transmitted any information to the U. S. Embassy in Prague or whether he ever worked, with or without pay, for the State Department or any other U. S. government agency.

He replied at one time that he could not answer that "kind of question' and would not say anything about it. At another time he said:

"I want to take a look at the record of the trial. Until I see what the record is, I want to let it stand."

Asked if he planned to repudiate his "confession," he took a similar stand:

"I want to see the record and and equipment, is all paid for by voluntary gifts.

"We've come a long way," Bray said, "and we're on the last mile. There is no turning back." Then he said "let no one in this room get the impression it can't be done," and added, "It can be done, it must be done." Bray wished the group "good luck" at the close of his talk.

Also making a talk was A. W. Kette, president of the YMCA board of trustees. After asking the board members to stand, he told the group he was "so proud you folks who so loyally worked in the last campaign are able and willing to start on another campaign." He told them "this campaign is a vital campaign" and that "if we are to turn over the Y to the kids one-half paid, we will have lost half the glory." Kette wished the group luck in concluding his short talk.

Bray, in giving the workers final instructions, told them "the cornerstone of this campaign and the 1950 campaign" was to "sign your own pledge before asking anybody for money."

Arthur Haas, secretary at the YMCA, led the workers through the new Y building and told them exactly what the building contained.

Bray at the beginning of the program gave his appreciation of thanks to the "many people who brought us up to this part of the campaign."

He announced that the large scoreboard used in the 1950 campaign would be up Thursday and again Monday in the old YMCA building, and said that the art students at Harding High School had re-lettered it for this campaign.

Bray introduced those at the head table and they in turn introduced others who had a part in building the Y. Karl Shell, vice chairman of the building committee, introduced the building committee and then introduced two architects from the firm of Sims, Cornelius and Schooley of Columbus, architects for the Y. They were John Schooley and Bert Cornelius.

Staff Introduced

Bray praised the architects for their work and then called on Haas, who introduced Vern Miller, senior secretary at the Y, and Marvin Ludwig, junior secretary at the Y, and told the group of the appointment of a new women's secretary, Miss Marilyn Louise Blass of Hamburg, N. Y.

Invocation was given by the Rev. L. L. Zimmerman, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarine, and benediction by the Rev. Floyd

MEMBERS OF THE MARION CONGREGATION of Israel and four Protestant ministers are pictured above at cornerstone laying ceremonies at the new Jewish Temple at S. Seffner and Mt. Vernon Aves. Sunday afternoon. As a symbol of the cementing of friendship and cooperation between the various faiths, the Rev. William Reeves placed the first brick atop the cornerstone. Others who assisted in placing bricks around the cornerstone are left to right: Rabbi Victor Weissberg of Cincinnati, the Rev. Frederick W. Leech of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Ashley Booth of Central Christian Church, the Rev. R. W. Faulkner of Calvary EUB Church, the Rev. Mr. Reeves of Wesley Methodist Church, Allan Tarshish of Columbus, Allan Fireman, back to camera, Benjamin Salzman, Sol Freed, and Benjamin Lenavitt.

Mt. Victory Banker Dies

Edward Wagner, 90, Was Oldest Resident

MT. VICTORY—Edward Wagner, 90, Mt. Victory banker and oldest resident of the village, died Monday at 7:23 p.m. in San Antonio Hospital in Kenton. In failing health two months, he was ill four days, suffering from a heart ailment.

Born March 27, 1863, in Kenton, he was a son of John and Catherine Dorn Wagner. In 1896, he married Luella Rowe who died in 1946. A retired farmer, he was at the time of his death vice president of the Mt. Victory State Bank, and had been a bank director since 1938. For several years he was a member of the village council, and he was a member of the Methodist Church.

Of four children whom he reared, including the late Walter G. Wagner, foster son who died in 1938, three are living. They are Walter G. Wagner Jr., with whom he made his home, Mrs. Don King of Mt. Victory, who was a great niece, and Mrs. Mildred Lytle of Marion.

Five nieces surviving are Mrs. Harry Klingerman of Bellefontaine, Mrs. M. W. Myers of Akron, Mrs. Raymond Williams of Richmond, Ind., Mrs. Chloe Suttermeister of Florida, and Mrs. George Searson of Kenton, and a foster great granddaughter, Cynthia Wagner. Mr. Wagner was last of a family of five.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Sherman and Mackey Funeral Home. The Rev. William Allen will officiate. Burial will be in Hale Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

also what came through here before I say anything about that. . . ."

Oatis' partial reticence brought this remark from one of his interviewers:

"I think a fuller answer might avoid some embarrassment."

The liberated newsman replied that he realized there is a desire "to understand the whole story right now." He added:

"But I can't go into it entirely and I don't understand it all myself just yet.

"It's a big question that needs a great amount of eulcidation. The situation is very complicated. It's hard for people to comprehend it unless it's put at considerable length. I couldn't go into it on an occasion like this. For one thing it isn't organized in my own mind."

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, who was with Oatis during the news conference, told the interviewing newsmen:

"I want to add that his reluctance to discuss certain questions cannot be fairly used as implying anything. I wish you to bear in mind that for more than two years he has been cut of from all normal contacts, serving a prison sentence in a foreign jail.

"He has had no opportunity, as you gentlemen have, to background himself about the case. Only 72 hours ago he learned of his release. Since then, he has traveled halfway around the world and has faced a barrage of questions like this at several places.

Under these circumstances, any man would have the gravest difficulty in collecting his thoughts and answering intelligently. I would hesitate to speak of details myself without consulting the record, although I have been closely concerned with this case for two years."

Oatis, turning to Starzel, said:

"I want to thank you for a very fair statement and I want to back you up on it. I appreciate it very much."

Because the new building has not yet been furnished, preparing for the dinner was a big task.

Most of the chairs were furnished by the Coliseum with the remainder coming from the old YMCA building. Tables were furnished by various churches in Marion.

The meal was prepared by the Isaly Company and was served by Tri-Hi-Y girls and Hi-Y boys. They were supervised by the Y banquet staff, headed by Mrs. Fred Reid.

Contract for Road Work Awarded

Contract for the reconstruction and black-topping of Sections C and D of County Road 29, known as the DeCliff Road, was awarded to the B. H. Stephens and Son firm of Marion on a bid of $22,319 by the Marion County Commissioners Monday.

Only other company submitting bids was the U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky with a bid of $23,981, commissioners reported. The county engineer's estimate of the job was $26,373.

Completion date of the project has been set for Aug. 1, with work to begin June 1.

nicipal courts in Athens, Circleville, Cuyahoga Falls, Delaware, Ravenna, Kenton, Port Clinton, Sidney and Tiffin. It provides for election of judges next November.

Permit the filing of nominating petitions for board of education posts within 90 days of the general election in cases where no petitions were filed last February or in cases where a candidate withdraws or dies. It returns to the Senate for consideration of an amendment which removed application of the bill to township officials.

Prevent a firm from selling milk, cream or butterfat at different prices in different communities to drive competitors out of business so it might sell at higher prices later. The bill by Rep. Fred Harter (D-Summit) was defeated last week, but it was revived Monday and passed, 81-36.

Authorize the Cedar Point Bridge Co., a subsidiary of the G. A. Boeckling Co., Sandusky, to build a $600,000 toll bridge and causeway from Sandusky to Cedar Point, cutting the distance from 12 miles to four. The bridge bill contemplates a bridge across part of Sandusky Bay.

The Senate completed legislative enactment of House - approved bills to:

Renew for the second time an authorization to voters to bond their tax duplicates to a maximum of 8 per cent for school construction.

Increase the maximum which can be spent for a state armory from $150,000 to $200,000.

The special Senate committee set up early in the session to investigate conditions at the Cambridge State Hospital has completed its investigation and will report either Thursday or next Monday, said Sen. Ralph H. Humphrey (R-Ashtabula), the committee chairman.

The House Judiciary Committee recommended, 11-8, a bill to set up a new formula for establishing the base for utility rate charges. Present formula sets the rate-making value of a utility at "replacement cost new, less depreciation.' Sponsors of the proposed bill call this formula obsolete. The bill proposes a "fair value" rate base formula.

The "A & B" bill actually calls for the appropriation of $38,634,825. However, $5,883,525 represents re-appropriations of money allocated to state building and improvement projects by previous legislatures and never spent.

Here are some of the highlights of the recommendations for state mental hospitals:

Lima $275,000; Massillon $1,190,000, including $775,000 for a medical and surgical building; Mount Vernon $175,000, Tiffin $500,000; Scioto County Receiving $119,500.

State schools: Orient $1,402,700, including three 125-bed buildings; Gallipolis $402,900.

Penal institutions: Ohio Penitentiary $510,000; Junction City prison $230,000; Roseville $65,000; London Prison Farm $415,000; Lebanon State Farm $90,000; Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield $365,000; Grafton Prison Farm $50,000; Osborne Prison Camp $19,000; Ohio Women's Reformatory at Marysville $200,000; Marion Training School $667,000; Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster $190,000; Girls' Industrial School at Delaware $575,000.

State universities, college and affiliates fared this way in recommendations:

BOWLING GREEN: $830,000 Miami $1,041,000, Ohio University $984,000, Ohio State University $4,317,500, Central State College $230,500.

Driver Uninjured In Truck Crash

A semi-truck outfit was practically demolished when it crashed into a culvert and overturned on Route 4, three miles east of Richwood, at 12:45 a.m. today.

Driver of the truck, William L. Jones, 31, of Akron, escaped uninjured.

State highway patrolmen from the Marion post who investigated, said the northbound truck veered off the right side of the highway and then turned over on the left side in a ditch. Merchandise in the truck, owned by the Direct C. Transport Co. of Akron, was where it crashed into the culvert shaken up considerably.

Truman.

Wilson has said the reduced funds will give the Air Force 114 "substantially well-equipped wings by June 30, 1954, with a goal of 120 wings by about mid-1955. Wilson called that an "interim' goal, but indicated there had been no decision to shoot for a higher one later.

The Truman administration had set a goal of 143 wings of which 126 would have been combat groups. There are now 103 wings, varying in size from 30 to 75 planes, but not all of them are at combat strength.

These lowered sights didn't please Sen. Young (R-ND), who said in an interview: "I don't think we should slow down expenditures until we know we have the most powerful air force in the world."

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said: "What's the use of having atomic bombs if you haven't got the strategic air force to deliver them? I'm going to offer an amendment to keep the goal at 143 wings."

Taft, long an advocate of a big air force, said he thinks it is much more important to get the existing Air Force fully equipped and in fighting trim than to discuss goals to be reached three years in the future.

"The new program doesn't mean any cut in immediate spending on the Air Force," Taft said. "The five billion dollars that Wilson has cut off wouldn't be spent for two or three years and we will have time to decide, after the new chiefs of staff look over the military situation, what to do about it.

Edward Fitzgerald

By George Sokolsky

Edward J. Fitzgerald, formerly of the U. S. Treasury and the War Production Board, was questioned by the Jenner committee as to his membership in the Perlo group, which has been described as an espionage operation. The following colloquy occurred:

SOKOLSKY

"Mr. Morris—Were you a member of the espionage ring described in that memorandum?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I decline to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate me.

"Mr. Morris—Did you know Mr. Victor Perlo who was named here as head of the ring?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I decided to answer on the same ground."

WHEN FITZGERALD left the government, he became a free lance writer, specializing in book reviews and stories for "Confession Magazine" (seems to be an incorrect name in the transcript).

His book reviews appeared in "The New York Times," the "New York Herald Tribune," and "The Saturday Review."

He not only reviewed books under his own name, but when, he said, he reviewed the same book for several publications, pseudonyms were used. He did not recall all the pseudonyms, because some were manufactured by the editors of the publications. One such assumed name was Martin Rice.

It is interesting to know that such practices are employed by these high-brow publications.

Fitzgerald testified that in one year, this year, he reviewed 53 books for "The Saturday Review," which is at least one a week; he did six for "The New York Times" and about 50 for the "New York Herald Tribune."

How many of these were duplicates the testimony does not say.

HE WAS questioned as to whether he had ever warned any of these editors that he had been suspected of being a Communist or a member of an espionage group and it appears that he only spoke about it to Norman Cousins of "The Saturday Review."

This is the testimony:

"Mr Morris—Did he know about your having been identified in Washington as a member of a wartime espionage ring?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—May I consult?

"Mr. Morris—You may.

(Witness confers with counsel)

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I discussed the matter with Norman Cousins.

"Mr. Morris—Did you make any explanation to him?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I decline to answer that question.

"Mr. Morris—Did you deny the allegations in the published testimoney about your participation in the war espionage ring?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I decline to answer that question on the same grounds as below."

IT IS NOT necessary to belabor the point of Mr. Fitzgerald's present attitude.

It is sufficient to cite the following:

"Sen. Welker — Mr. Fitzgerald, as of this moment, are you a member of a secret espionage or sabotage ring against the interest of the Government of the United States?

"Mr. Fitzgerald—I decline to answer that question on the same ground as before."

THERE HAS been severe criticism of inquiries of persons who write books, or for newspapers and magazines, on the basis that such inquiry is an abridgment of freedom of the press.

On the other hand, in the investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations by the McCarran committee, it was established that a group of persons conspired to dominate books on Far Eastern subjects published in this country, and the reviews of such books in the three publications mentioned in this column, which are the most important in the country.

Here is a man, Edward J. Fitzgerald, who is not a professional journalist but who moves into book reviewing from government employment. His name has appeared in the testimony of others.

He somehow quickly reaches these top publications, which is not easy even for a professional and does more than 100 reviews in a short time, which is very rare indeed.

And he uses not only his own name, but several others, often reviewing the same book for each publication, which is close to a monopoly.

As bookshops base their orders on reviews appearing in these publications, the significance is obvious.

Magnetic Springs Polio Center Plans Told by Dr. Keever

RICHWOOD — The Northern Union County Methodist Brotherhood Association met Tuesday evening in the First Methodist Church. The president, Willard Clevenger, presided for the business session.

Dr. Kenneth W. Keever, formerly of Richwood, was the guest speaker. Dr. Keever, president of the Magnetic Springs Foundation, addressed the group and spoke on plans for rehabilitation of polio patients and an attempt to bring to Ohio the type of treatment given in Warm Springs, Ga.

He explained the progress that has been made in the Magnetic Springs Brace Shop, and showed pictures of the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation, where he spent two years studying before returning to Ohio in 1952.

The next Brotherhood meeting will be held in September. Preceding the meeting, the Semper Fidelis Class of the church served dinner.

POOR CIRCULATION

What You Can Do About It

Sufferers will be glad to learn that amazing, new scientific pulsators have been developed that will help poor blood circulation. A few minutes' daily use will help relieve painful limb cramps, numbness, cold feet and other circulatory ailments. Users report also that the devices are wonderful for nervous tension, fatigue and arthritis.

No electricity enters the body. Operation is similar to equipment built by same manufacturer for hospitals, institutions, etc. For booklet or free home demonstration write C. E. Nichols, 775 Gill Ave., Marion, Ohio.

Claiborne Grange Meets in Richwood

RICHWOOD — When Claiborne Grange No. 269 met recently. An appeal for aid was read and answered in the usual form. A demit was given to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans who have moved to East Liberty. George Clark was named to serve on the executive committee due to the resignation of Mr. Evans.

Inside Labor

Track Racket

By Victor Riesel

The sport of kings has been supporting some labor gentry in a style to which royalty hasn't been accustomed for several revolutions.

RIESEL

These are the unknown big boys who've used their little unions to move in on the nation's race tracks.

These lads never have to worry about which nose to place a bet on. Even if their nag just walks leisurely across the finishing line these union men get a purse every day.

They live in rambling suburban houses, Florida winter palaces away from the Miami crowds, drive custom built cars, pick up hundred dollar dinner tabs and make the waterfront racket "take" a bingo bagatelle compared with their unproletarian profit.

SOME OF THESE union chiefs own part of the tracks. Others place their members there — at a fee. Others cut in on the gambling. Others have the parking concession.

You name it, we have it — at Roosevelt Rack Track, Hialeah, Detroit's Hazel Park and sundry turfs where even the mud never slows up the fast bucks.

There is, for example, a Detroit sport named Ray Carroll. For some years now he has been running three local AFL Building Service Unions of some 3,500 race track and bowling alley workers.

This downtrodden servant of the proletariat figured nothing was too good for those who sacrificed for the people. From two of his locals he drew $25,000 a year. Also $100 a week expenses.

To keep body and soul together, Brother Carroll also operated as an employment agency. He supplied labor to such turfs as Hazel Park, Northville Downs, Wolverine and the Detroit track.

In the morning he'd send his men over for jobs — at a commission. In the afternoon he'd be their union leader, bargaining for them. Not a bad bargain, he had.

SINCE SOME of his members worked at day and night races, Brother Carroll figured he should have his own daily double, so he'd charge them double dues for the same union card in the same union.

Finally, auditors from the main Building Service International Union office in Chicago dropped in. Carroll was suspended.

Before I put this galloping prose to paper I called the executive board room of the Building Service International headquarters. The Union's international president, William McFetridge, was waiting there for Carroll to show up and stand trial before his angered peers.

Meanwhile, McFetridge was trying to get Carroll's records—which the Detroit sport said had been lost. And what do you know, the vanishing books covered the very period which McFetridge was investigating.

Carroll explained that he moved his office at that time. And you know how confusing that can be.

BUT CARROLL is just one of the labor racing fraternity. And takes longer than a Russian five-year-plan to get their union books.

In St. Louis, for example, the Federal Grand Jury asked to see the books of the AFL Steamfitters Local 562 — and its boss, Larry Callanan, big wheel in the racing fraternity, just turned them down.

It takes considerable cynicism not to be floored by the fact that the Grand Jury now has had to fight right up to the Missouri Supreme Court for the right to examine the records of an American labor union.

It seems neither remiss nor unfair to me to point out that the international union led by U.S. Secretary of Labor Durkin is the very same one which charters Callanan's local.

Callanan therefore dirties his own nest, smears all labor and embarrasses a member of our government.

Who takes Callanan's case up to the Supreme Court? None other than Morris Shenker, attorney for some of the nation's biggest bookies.

Nice fraternity brothers. In the East, one of them, Bill De Koning, long time boss of Long Island Construction Trades, has stock interest in the Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways.

ANOTHER construction laborers' boss, Jersey Joe Madden, pal of the imprisoned extortioner, Joe Fay, can place his boys at the pari-mutuel windows at the east-

Doctors say Miss Davison's life is dependent upon a blood transfusion a day.

Former Galion Man To Get 70-Year Pin

GALION —A 70-year Masonic lapel pin is being presented to L. J. Snyder, retired Galion funeral director who has been living in Lake Worth, Fla., for the past nine years. Mr. Snyder is 92 years old.

The pin is being awarded by the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. A. M., for continuous membership since May 16, 1883, and is being forwarded to him by Charles K. Cunningham of Galion, now serving as junior grand deacon of the Grand Lodge of Ohio.

Mr. Snyder joined Fidelity Lodge No. 327 which was consolidated Oct. 28, 1903 with Galion Lodge No. 414, F. A. M. Besides Mr. Snyder there are two other living members of this lodge: Peter Wiener now living at Upper Sandusky, and C. F. Colley of Scranton, Pa. Mr. Snyder served as master of the lodge 1897-98. He was High Priest of Galion Chapter, No. 142, in 1906, and Worthy Patron of Naomi chapter, Order of Eastern Star in 1902-03.

Firm Plans to Use Young Home As Office Building

Permission to use the home of the late Mrs. Filmore Young at 341 Mt. Vernon Ave. as an office building has been sought by the Sinclair Pipeline Co. of Independence, Kansas.

This company entered a high bid of $42,000 for the property which was placed on sale by William R. Martin, executor of Mrs. Young's will.

Application for a "permissive use" permit for an office building and a parking lot for employees and visitors has been made to Marion Planning Commission. The property is now zoned residential and permission must be secured from the planning commission before it may be used for commercial purposes.

A public hearing on the application is scheduled before the commission in Mayor Harold F. Robinson's office in the City Hall at 4 p.m. Friday.

Actually, purchase of the property by the pipeline company has not yet been completed. Although company spokesmen would not give out any specific information regarding the project, it is reported the company has a contract to purchase the property only if the permissive use permit is granted by the Planning Commission.

The Sinclair Pipeline Co. is a Delaware Corporation with its main offices in Independence Kansas. It has a division office at the preesnt time above The Star offices on N. State St.

Find Kidnaped Sons Of Wealthy Chinese

HONG KONG (AP)—Two kidnaped teen-age Chinese boys, one the son of a millionaire Macau casino owner, today were found in an otherwise empty house in that Portuguese colony.

Apparently abandoned by their abductors, both boys were weak from malnutrition and their confinement. They were kidnaped May 5.

It was not learned whether millionaire Fu Tak-iam paid the 500,000 Hong Kong dollars (about $75,000 U. S.) ransom demanded by the abductors for the release of his 14-year-old son, Fu Iam-kin.

The kidnappers had asked 700,000 Hong Kong dollars, but the elder Fu—explaining that he had 16 sons—said he could not pay more than 200,000.

BUILDERS UNION STRIKES

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP) — AFL Hod Carriers, Builders and Common Laborers, Local 125, are striking here. Wage talks with the Youngstown Builders Association broke down Monday. Members of the union, said local Treasurer Willie Johnson, refused a four-cent hourly wage raise. They want 12½ cents, he said.

ern Monmouth and Yonkers turfs. Nothing wrong with getting a few of the lads some jobs. But how about getting back to leading labor.

The boys can own horses, concessions, parking lots, or sell yo-yo tops at fairs if they want to. But not if they use their unions to move in.

They're either labor leaders or businessmen. But they can't talk like the oppressed and operate like tycoons.

These few sports will discredit all labor. They must take either the cash or the crusade. Not both.

Expects Stand Soon On Taft-Hartley Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Durkin says he expects the Eisenhower administration to take a stand "very shortly" on changes in the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Durkin also told a news conference yesterday that once this stand becomes known, he wants to testify about it to the Senate and House Labor Committees.

Durkin also protested an 11 per cent cut in the Labor Department's appropriation voted by the House Appropriations Committee. He said this will require dismissal notices to be sent out within a week to more than 10 per cent of the department's employes.

BABIES, we love 'em

Sure, everybody does, for babies mean a thriving and prosperous nation—healthy growth shared in varying degrees by communities in the Erie Area.

Since 1940 more than 3 million babies are born each year. Just a generation ago, in 1923, America's population was just under 107 million. Because of the high birth rate it has climbed close to 160 million people.

As the nation grows, as your community grows, so grows the Erie. You can see why a thriving community is a big asset to a railroad.

For our part, we will continue to keep pace with your progress. We are constantly improving our equipment in order to serve you better. By doing this we help attract new industries and bring new payrolls to further the prosperity of communities along the Erie.

Awards Given Galion Pupils

Special to The Star

GALION — Annual Recognition Day was observed at Galion Senior High School, Monday afternoon, with the Student Council in charge of the ceremonies. More than 250 students were named for outstanding records in the various departments of the high school, such as athletics, dramatics and speech, journalism, Latin, scholarship, commercial subjects, music and shop.

Arrangements for the program were in charge of Miss Josephine Tracht, faculty advisor of the Student Council. Don Halsey, president of the council, presided. He introduced E. R. Pickering, school principal, who explained the purpose of Recognition Day. Many of those honored had already received awards earlier this year, but they were announced during the service.

Charles Zartman, faculty guidance counselor, announced three seniors who have been offered scholarships to universities and colleges: Patricia Auer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Philip E. Auer, to Capital University, Columbus, Miss Beverly Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark, to Heidelberg University, Tiffin; and Phil Bunyard, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Bunyard, to Kenyon College at Gambier.

Janet Miller was named Girl Athlete of the year, for which she received the Girls' Athletic Association trophy.

Presentation of the book, "American Memoir," by Henry Canby, was made to the high school by the Honor Society. This is an annual custom, the presentation being made by Carol Sloan with Principal Pickering accepting.

Don Lewis, commander of Scarbrough post, the American Legion, was present for the presentation of awards to winners of the essay contest which is sponsored by the Legion.

Bob Cole received the award for Vocational Shop.

Candidate to Girls' State, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary, Sheila Brooke, was presented; and the boys who will attend Buckeye Boys' State, Stanley Lorens, John Fisher, Dick Hottenorth, Charles Adams and Jim Tiller.

Faculty members representing the various departments included: coaches, Jack Shuck, Dick Kerin and Don Richardson for athletics; Miss Miriam Sayre for dramatics and speech; Miss Rose Seifert, girls' athletics; Harold Robinson, journalism; Grace DeWitt, Latin; Marvin Fogt, music; Charles Zartman, scholarship; Charles Aplas, shop. The commercial department awards were announced by Don Halsey, president of the Student Council.

Chicken Regal Is Dish Really Fit for King

Food fit for king and queen is this chicken regal with almond rice. And it further qualifies for royal eminence because it's so easily and quickly prepared. Perfection can be accomplished by the novice cook as well as the veteran.

It calls for choice quick-frozen chicken breasts, fresh mushrooms, almonds and rice and the result is so deliciously good, it's destined to become one of your favorite company dishes and a family favorite as well.

CHICKEN REGAL WITH ALMOND RICE

Ingredients: 2 boxes (1 lb. each) quick frozen chicken breasts, thawed, ½ cup butter, ½ lb. fresh mushrooms (or use 2 3-oz. cans sliced mushrooms, drained), ¼ cup chopped onion, 1-3 cup chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons flour, dash of pepper, 1¾ cups bouillon or 2 bouillon cubes dissolved in 1¾ cups hot water; ½ cup light cream, 1 1-3 cups precooked rice, ¼ cup slivered almonds, 2 tablespoons butter.

Method: Separate chicken breasts and remove skin. Dry pieces well between towels. Melt butter in skillet. Add chicken, cover and brown 10 minutes over medium heat, shaking skillet from time to time to prevent overbrowning. Turn chicken once. Slice mushrooms and add to chicken. Continue cooking, covered, 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Remove chicken and mushrooms and set aside.

Add onions to butter remaining in skillet and saute until lightly browned. Add parsley, flour and pepper and stir until blended. Then add bouillon and light cream gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is thickened. Add the chicken and mushrooms. Cover and simmer 20 to 25 minutes or until chicken is tender.

Cook rice according to directions on package. Saute almonds in the 2 tablespoons butter and add to rice. Arrange rice on hot platter. Place chicken breasts on

Writer Husband Too Often Gone, Wife Sues

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Writer Richard Tregaskis' long absences from home broke up their marriage, his wife Marian testified in winning an uncontested divorce on grounds of cruelty yesterday.

Mrs. Tregaskis said she became so lonely she had to buy two cats "because I didn't have anybody to talk to." Tregaskis, author of "Guadalcanal Diary," once said he was taking a three-month trip and didn't return for 11 months, she said.

Crawford Co. Faces Early Planting Risk

BUCYRUS — Crawfodd County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller today warned farmers that they are taking a considerable risk in planting corn ahead of the recommended planting date which is May 25.

Several hundred acres of corn already have been planted and there is a possibility of extensive damage by cutworms, wireworms and corn borers, Miller warned.

Quick maturing varieties of corn make the risk of early planting unnecessary, the agent said. Last year when farmers were forced to plant late because of adverse weather conditions, a good crop was harvested.

About 55,000 acres of corn were planted last year in the county and about the same acreage is expected to be planted this year, according to Miller.

Set Richwood Graduation Activities

RICHWOOD—On Thursday, May 28, a class of 28 seniors will be graduated from Richwood High School.

The 74th annual commencement exercises of the Richwood High School will be held at the high school auditorium with Mr. R. M. Garrison, supervisor of instruction in the State Department of education, as the principal speaker of the evening.

Miss Luzon Groty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Groty, will deliver the valedictory of the class. She has the highest average that it is possible for a graduate to have,-a straight A or 4 point,-for the four years of high school. Miss Arlene Dickason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dickason, is the salutatorian of the class with a 3.88 average for the four years.

Another unusual record will be recognized at the commencement exercise. Miss Mary Ann Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Chapman, will be honored because of a perfect attendance record during her twelve years at school.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the First Baptist Church on Sunday evening, May 24 at eight o'clock. The Rev. Leonard Mann of the First Methodist Church will deliver the baccalaureate sermon with the other ministers of the village assisting in the services.

The graduates of the Middle School who are being promoted to high school will be recognized at Commencement by being presented certificates of promotion by Gail W. Baldwin, Superintendent of Union County Schools.

Members of the high school graduating class are: John Ankney, Darlene Battles, Bonnie Bernhard, Helen Brelsford, Samuel Bumgarner, Mary Ann Chapman, Phyllis Clark, Donald Colegrove, James Curl, Arlene Dickason, Ronald Dildine, Johna Eaches, Larry Greenwood, Luzon Groty, Ernest McElroy, Carolyn Mosher, Richard Oman, Roger Oman, Walter Pfleider, Samuel Pierce, Dale Rush, Sarah Shoup, Patricia Shuman, Aileen Tinch, Roger Travis, Wilda Mae Turner, Sarah Vance, Roland Wood.

The graduating seniors are leaving for a trip to Washington on June 2, with Mr. and Mrs. Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Masters as chaperons.

Gets Wallet Back Minus Toll Charge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A Monaco, Pa., man will get his lost wallet back—but with a quarter missing.

Richard E. Band, operator of a service station, told police Paul Stevens of Monaco left the wallet with $35 when he stopped for gas the other night, then headed south over the North Grand Island Bridge.

Police forwarded the wallet with this note from Band:

"Chased you, but couldn't get you to stop. Bridge fare 25 cents."

Depot Open House Attended by 2,000

Some 2,000 persons attended an "Armed Forces Day" open house program at the Marion Engineer Depot Saturday and Sunday.

Col. John F. Phelan, commanding officer, said those visiting the exhibits displayed at the depot showed "much interest and enthusiasm."

Included in the displays were many new kinds of engineering equipment, modern arms, clothing and food not formerly shown to the general public, but now in use by the Armed Forces, Col. Phelan said.

The World Today

New Chiefs Outspoken

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The present Joint Chiefs of Staff, long - time companions in arms of President Eisenhower, stated their positions clearly enough but, all in all, they have been fairly mild and quiet men.

The new Joint Chiefs, named by Eisenhower in a complete overhaul of the top command in the armed forces, may turn out to be more aggressive and vocal and therefore a disappointment to any politicians who want rubber stamps.

The present Joint Chiefs, the top military men of the country, are: Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman: Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff; and Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations.

(Fechteler has had his job only since August, 1951, when he was moved up to succeed the late Adm. Forrest Sherman.)

The Joint Chiefs got mixed up in politics in early 1951 when they opposed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to hit the Chinese with an all-out attack. They said it might involve this country in an all-out Asiatic war. They urged watching Europe. That was before Fechteler succeeded Sherman.

During last year's presidential campaign, Sen. Taft of Ohio, Senate Republican leader and the most powerful man in Congress, said he had no confidence in the present Joint Chiefs.

Avowedly to satisfy Secretary of Defense Wilson, Eisenhower last week announced he was appointing all new Joint Chiefs, including Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff; Gen. Nathan Twining, chief of the Air Force; and Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations.

At the same time Eisenhower said he was picking Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther to succeed Ridgway as chief of the Allied Powers in Europe.

Radford is an outspoken man, so outspoken that there had been some doubt he would be made chairman of the Joint Chiefs. He is not apt to bite his tongue even if it means conflict with Congress.

Ridgway and Gruenther, before taking their new jobs, stepped squarely into the picture yesterday, Ridgway in testimony before Congress, Gruenther in a Paris news conference.

The President had recommended a big cut in appropriations for the Air Force, a plan which seems to have had the full endorsement of Secretary Wilson.

In his testimony to the House Foreign Affairs Committee Ridgway said he was not familiar with the Air Force cuts proposed by the Eisenhower administration. A Democrat, Rep. Harrison of Virginia, wanted to know his opinion of such cuts. Ridgway said:

"If these reductions would result in any reduction in our minimum requirements (in Western Europe) I would deplore seeing that reduction made."

He told the committee air power is still the weakest link in Europe's defenses. He said:

"Despite the substantial gains in numbers of aircraft and trained pilots deriving from the United States' mutual defense assistance program, our air forces today are still inadequate to carry out their assigned tasks."

And in Paris Gruenther, who had worked closely with Eisenhower when the President held Ridgway's present job, said inadequate air power is still one of the major weaknesses in European defenses.

He said the Russians have 20,000 planes in operation and described their Air Force as "not the best in the world from the quality standpoint but from the standpoint of quantity and quality it is."

Although he said he does not expect a third world war, he added: "I cannot see the moment when we can start reducing our strength."

And he said: "Our biggest difficulty is that we haven't got adequate air power yet."

Lewis Blasts McKay Choice Of Mine Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis says Secretary of the Interior McKay's plan to place Tom Lyon of Salt Lake City at the head of the Bureau of Mines is "a diabolical outrage and a political crime against the whole mining population."

Lewis conferred with McKay yesterday and later told newsmen he had voiced "astonishment at the secretary of interior wanting human blood of coal miners on his hands as may come from having the bureau headed by a comparative ignoramus."

McKay commented: "I am just as much interested in humanity and the welfare of the miners as John L. Lewis."

A month ago McKay said he had recommended Lyon to the White House. Lewis contends Lyon, a geologist with metal-mining experience, knows nothing of coal mining and that 88 per cent of all miners are coal miners. He says John J. Forbes, the present mines bureau head, is fully qualified but is being replaced for political reasons.

Lyons only comment: "I don't want to get into a fight with Lewis unless I really have to."

To Joe College

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to Joe College, Class of 1953:

Dear Joe,

I see by the papers that when you hang up your cap and gown next month you are looking for a job holding down a swivel chair rather than packing a salesman's sample case.

This is sad. Why should a young fellow your age be so anxious to join the indoor battalions of business?

There is nothing wrong with wanting to be a chemist or an accountant, a personnel executive or a business administrator.

But, why, Joe, are you so reluctant to take up a selling job? Do you think being a desk technician offers you more security? Are you trying to hide from life and its struggles behind your bright new sheepskin?

Get out in the rain, kid, and meet the public. Join the great foot infantry of business—if you really want to learn your business. You have a better chance of becoming a captain of industry if you first serve as a private on patrol, scouting for new customers and new ideas.

Maybe you heard too many jokes about traveling salesmen when you were young, Joe. Maybe that Broadway play, "Death of a Salesman' scared you into believing a salesman's only reward is to die, leaving insurance money to make the last payment on a house he never wanted to own.

If so, you've got the salesman's role all wrong, Joe. He's the reconnaissance man of industry. He lead follow for all to follow. He may wear out a Pullman mattress in his travels, but he's as much of a pioneer as those who journeyed west in covered wagons.

All business is built on selling. All living is selling, too—the art of selling yourself, and your faith in yourself, to others.

That is the first thing a salesman learns. If he can't get people to buy his belief in himself, they won't buy his product—whether it be a better skyscraper or an air-conditioned mousetrap.

The advantage of being a salesman is it offers you the quickest, surest way to get to understand and know people. If you get out and shake enough hands, and listen to the other fellows' troubles in half a hundred cities, you will get to know the landscape of the heart as well as the landscape of your country.

A real first-hand knowledge of people, Joe, will not only bring you immense personal satisfaction. It is the most priceless asset you can have in business.

Only people buy things. And it is only natural that the salesman, as the keystone of industry, should reap the greatest rewards.

A good salesman doesn't have to wait for an older man at the desk ahead of his to die or retire before he can get ahead. His opportunity is endless so long as he can sell his first and finest product—himself. If he can do that, any company will bid for his services.

Better think it over, Joe before you anchor yourself to a desk at 21 or 22. They've got new machines coming up that are going to make a lot of those jobs obsolete.

But they'll never invent a machine to replace a good salesman. So grab the first sample case they offer you, kid, and head for the open road—and start knocking on all those closed doors.

Let some desk jockey in the home office envy you as he totes up your commissions every month. You're too young to rust.

Sincerely,
Hal Boyle

"IT WAS A MISTAKE." Former Attorney General James P. McGranery is shown as he appeared before a House Judiciary subcommittee in Washington. He testified "it was a mistake" for the government to drop a big mail fraud case in 1946 involving Kansas bond dealer Roy E. Crummer but said he was never consulted about the atcion.

Banker Raps Govt. Lending to Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everett D. Reese of Newark, O., vice president of the American Bankers Association, says government lending to business means funds "raised by taxation of all citizens are used for the benefit of a selective group."

Reese, speaking Monday against a proposal to create a permanent independent government agency to aid small business, said scandals in previous years in the Reconstruction Finance Corp. lending program indicated loans "could be used for political purposes and not for the best interests of the public."

Woman's Discovery Makes Margarine Spread Smoother

"If you've ever spread a hole in bread," says Mrs. Filbert, "you'll share my satisfaction in this discovery that makes my margarine spread smooth—even when it's ice-cold! No crumbling, no lumping. No shaving or chipping off a hard block."

Mrs. Filbert's Margarine is her own recipe, and it tastes so sweet and fresh you can't tell it from the most expensive spread. Only a woman could make it taste so good

Obituary

Clarence A. Bird, son of Marion and Etta Bird, was born May 18th, 1888 at the same residence where he spent his entire life. He laid down his tired body on May 4th 1953 and committed his soul to God.

At the age of 19 he was converted and baptised into the Christian faith, afterwards joining the Bird Baptist Church. He was actively engaged in the work of this church as long as it existed, afterwards was active in other churches for several years. On Dec. 12. 1914 he was united in marriage to Josephine Iams who has gone before him into the heavenly home. To this union was born one daughter, Glendora. On August 21. 1937 he was united in marriage with Fern Clark of Dayton, Ohio, whom he now leaves behind.

To mourn his going but also expecting the glorious resurrection of the saints, are his wife Fern, daughter and Son-in-law Rev. and Mrs. Edward Bruerd of Charleston, W. Virginia and their three children, Mary Jo, Charles, and Marvene: and the step-children Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark and son Gerald of the U. S. Navy; Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Clark and son, Larry; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haney all of Dayton; Naval Air Chief Robert Clark and wife, U.S. Navy.

This noble life has now gone to a brighter clime where we shall

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sagged in a lackluster manner today in the midst of predictions of a stiffer Eisenhower administration tax policy.

Losses ran to around a point at the outside in representative areas. Gains were fractional. The steels, motors, oils, utilities, aircrafts, chemicals, and a long list of miscellaneous stocks were lower. Coppers and radio - television issues held steady.

Lower stocks included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Commonwealth Edison, Dow Chemical, General Electric, American Can, Pennsylvania Railroad, Atlantic Coast Line, and Texas Co.

Milwaukee Rookie Nips Phillies, 4-0; Tie for League Lead

Senators Cool Chicago With Shutout Victory

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Parachute jumping isn't included in the normal course of instruction on how to become a winning major league pitcher but young hurlers may consider it when they study the amazing development of Blazing Bob Buhl.

The 24-year-old right - hander from Saginaw, Mich., is one of the newest reasons for the surprising success of the Milwaukee Braves. Last night in his biggest test so far, Buhl whipped the hard-hitting Philadelphia Phillies 4-0, and pulled the Braves into a first-place tie with the Phils in the National League.

The ex-GI paratrooper scattered seven hits and has now worked 17 scoreless innings out of a possible 18 as a starting pitcher.

Two years in the Army—much of it in Korea—worked a big change in Buhl. Although he admits he didn't have time to do much pitching he somehow developed a pretty good curve and a beautiful change of pace to go with his good fast ball.

"The improvement in the kid is amazing," declared his manager, Charlie Grimm. "Bob pitched for me when I managed Dallas in 1950. He was a wild youngster then. He had a pretty good fast ball but his curve was a mere wrinkle. He's still a bit wild, but just enough to keep those batters honest."

Buhl came back to baseball this spring after 19 battle jumps in Korea. Since his last pitching was at Dallas, where he had a mediocre 8-14 record, Buhl figured to be farmed out. But he caught fire in spring training and won a job.

A skin rash slowed him down for a while and he lost a game in relief to Cincinnati the first week of the season. He didn't get into another game until last week, when he was a last-minute choice to face the New York Giants. The Giants got two bloop hits and Buhl was in business.

Last night's victory, which included a home run by Del Crandall gave the Braves an even split in their first home series with the Phils.

Both teams gained ground over the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost again last night to the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1, in 10 innings. It was the Dodgers' fifth loss in six games. New York rallied to defeat St. Louis 8-6 in the only Hatfield and Steve Souchock doubled and Johnny Pesky and Walt Dropo singled. Ned Garver checked the Red Sox on five hits for his third victory.

Boston came up with six runs in the first inning of the second game. Mel Parnell scored his fifth straight victory but he needed help in the seventh from Ellis Kinder as the Tigers rallied.

Tribe Hears Easter May Return Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland, embarrassed by a 4-3 loss to its Reading, Pa. farm club, resumes its big league schedule tonight by playing in Griffith Stadium for the first time this year.

Bob Feller, who hasn't been able to win a game in his last three starts, was picked to pitch against the Senators.

The last time Feller pitched, in Boston, Manager Al Lopez took him out while he was still ahead in the seventh inning.

A reporter's question to him about this — which Lopez felt implied that he had done the wrong thing — made the Cleveland manager so angry he called a special session of the baseball writers traveling with the team and delivered a scolding.

This dispute has cooled off, and Al seems once again his placid self.

Monday night's loss to Reading came in the 12th inning. Rookie Al Aber, who had pitched eight scoreless innings in relief, threw a wild pitch, allowing Joe Altobelli to score from third.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

A group of Marionites watched the Cincinnati Redlegs clobber Brooklyn pitching for four home runs and a 13-5 win Sunday in the opener and then fizzle like a wet firecracker before Carl Erskine's back breaking curve and a good high hard throw.

From the Marion crowd's angle, the day was a big success. We watched Frank Smith, former hurler here, handcuff the Dodgers on four hits for eight innings. Smitty took over with none away in the second inning when Bubba Church gave up three runs. The Redlegs had scored a pair in the first when Jim Greengrass poled a Billy Loes pitch over the left field wall.

SHORT

Church gave up a home run to Jackie Robinson, walked Roy Campanella and then gave George Shuba a fat one good for another two tallies. After Wayne Belardi singled, Smith came on. He retired the side and allowed only two runs from then on. That tally was Campanella's 12th homer of the season.

Three other Cincinnatians belted homers. Gus Bell clouted a long one into the right field bleachers and Willard Marshall and Ted Klusejewski also it for the circuit.

We barely missed seeing our first major league no-hit game in the nightcap. Erskine was robbed of his gem when the Redlegs' Bell laid down a perfect bunt in the sixth inning. Bell caught Billy Cox playing deep at third and dumped the ball down the line. Erskine rushed in and Campanella went out but Bell, one of the Redleg's powermen, beat it out.

In that nightcap, the Cincinnati pitching staff folded completely. Four hurlers went to the hill but were unable to stop the Dodger bats which were beating out a 20-hit attack. PeeWee Reese with four for six and Robinson with three for four paced the attack.

Smitty, in his eight-inning stint,

Weston Hurls No-Hitter For Church of the Brethren Nine

Mel Weston, Church of the Brethren hurler, turned in a no-hit pitching gem against Greenwood Monday night in the YMCA Church Softball Loop while his mates supplied the power at the plate to take a 5-0 verdict.

Weston faced only 27 opposing hitters over the seven inning route. Six men reached base, five on walks and one on an error by the shortstop. The Brethren hitters connected for nine safe bingles and took advantage of three errors to notch their first win of the campaign.

In other games completed at Garfield Park St. Mary No. 1 scored six runs in bottom half of the seventh inning on one hit to edge Trinity Baptist, 9-8. Holding an apparent safe 8-3 lead in the seventh, Trinity's pitcher issued seven walks and a single to blow

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The roar of cars tuning up for the 500-mile race May 30 died down for half an hour today.

The track was closed during the funeral of Chet Miller, 50-year-old veteran from Glendale, Calif., who was killed on a practice run last Friday.

George Connor of Los Angeles had a brush with death himself in the crackup of Hoosier racing team special Monday.

Connor escaped unhurt after the car spun one and a half times and the tail smacked into the wall on the northwest turn.

Royal Bay Gem Wins

Dark Star Runs Second In Prep For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dark Star and jockey Henry Moreno are going to have to keep nervous eyes looking back over both shoulders in Saturday's Preakness.

They had a warning yesterday they're liable to be run over by Royal Bay Gem as well as Native Dancer.

The Dark Star-Moreno team learned about Native Dancer in the Kentucky Derby May 2 when the Alfred G. Vanderbilt entry just missed passing them at the finish.

Royal Bay Gem did go by them in the Preakness Prep at Pimlico yesterday.

Native Dancer, Royal Bay Gem and perhaps half a dozen others will be out to try to stop Dark Star from taking the second leg of the triple crown Saturday.

The $100,000 Preakness will be a mile and three-sixteenths at even weight, 126 pounds. The Prep was an eighth of a mile shorter for only $7,500 and Wark Star had to carry four pounds more than his conqueror's 118.

For that reason, it was noticeable that jockey Moreno laid off the whip and used only his feet and hands to urge Dark Star. It wasn't enough as Royal Bay Gem with jockey James Combest went sailing by in the stretch to win by three-quarters of a length.

There were slight changes in the strategy of both Royal Bay Gem and Dark Star. The Harry Guggenheim hope led in the Derby almost from start to finish.

In the Prep, jockey Moreno held him in third and fourth place among the six competitors most of the way. Royal Bay Gem started last as usual but made his move earlier almost simultaneously with Dark Star going around the bend into the stretch.

They came out of the turn together hot on the heels of Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Correspondent, who had moved to the fore then. For several strides the three were head and head. Correspondent couldn't take it and folded just as he did in the Derby to drop back to fourth with Bob Summers riding instead of Eddie Arcaro.

The two sons of Royal Gem II had it out coming down the stretch and it was Eugene Constantin Jr.'s pride who prevailed. The third choice behind Dark Star and Correspondent, Royal Bay Gem paid $10.80.

other National League game.

In the American League, Detroit split a double-header with Boston, taking the first game 5-2, and losing the second, 8-5. Washington cooled of the Chicago White Sox, 3-0, and the other clubs weren't scheduled.

Ted Kluszewski homered with one out in the 10th and final inning for the Cincinnati triumph as the Dodgers equaled a modern major league record by leaving 18 baserunners stranded in the first nine innings.

The crushing blow came off Preacher Roe, who also threw a home run ball to Andy Seminick in the fifth inning. Bud Podbielan pitched an amazing game for the Redlegs. He walked 13 men in the first nine innings—one short of the modern National League record—gave up six hits and saw one man get aboard on an error. Yet he was scored on only once, in the first inning when Jackie Robinson followed two walks with a double.

The Giants put together five straight hits after two were out in the seventh at St. Louis to whip the Cardinals. The big blow was Monte Irvin's home run with two on base, which broke a 5-5 tie.

Old Connie Marrero, believed in some quarters to be almost as ancient as Satchell Paige, had the White Sox fanning the night air trying to hit his "nuthin' " balls at Washington. He struck out nine and allowed only five hits.

Washington got all of its runs in the sixth off Joe Dobson on singles by Wayne Terwilliger and Clyde Vollmer, a double by Mickey Vernon and a pair of Chicago errors.

Detroit jumped away to a three-run lead in the first inning of its first game at Boston when Fred walked three and struck out five. He got all of Brooklyn's big guns at least once. Reese, Robinson, Campanella, Junior Gilliam and Carl Furillo all went down swinging.

Furillo, in our book, blasted the longest hit of the game and ended up with only a single. In the ninth inning, he drove Smitty's side-arm curve deep into right centerfield. The ball hit halfway up the fence at the 390-foot mark but fast fielding by Bell held Furillo at first.

Frankly, we were surprised that the games were played. Five minutes before entering Crosley Field, Cincinnati had been drenched by a downpour and the field was soggy. The drainage system was improved last year, however, and Matty Schwab, superintendent of the stadium, had his ground crew busy readying the field during the heavy rain.

Wilhelm and Hinton Teams Win Little League Openers

Estimated 450 Watch First Night Ceremony

Wilhelm's Wallpaper nipped Osgood, 3-1, and Hinton's Sporting Goods edged Vance's, 8-6, in the opening games of the Little League Monday night at Lincoln Park. The four American League teams will begin action tonight with the first game scheduled at 6:15.

A crowd estimated at around 450 persons turned out for the opening games which were highlighted by an elaborate opening night ceremony. The Harding High School band turned out and the Bird-McGinnis Post Drum and Bugle Corps gave an exhibition between the games.

Robert Scott, member of the Baseball for Boys Commission, introduced each team in both leagues along with the managers and coaches. American League teams were present for the opening session and were in uniform.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson was on hand and threw out the first pitch of the season. His battery mate was Ralph Forrest, safety-service director. Robinson's fast ball was a little high and away from the plate and he immediately turned the mound over to Corky Middleton, starting hurler for the Wilhelm team.

In the opening tilt between Wilhelm's and Osgood, Middleton appeared headed for trouble when an error by his third baseman allowed the Osgood lead-off hitter, Wally White, to reach first. Middleton settled down and southpawed his way through the inning by getting the next three hitters on strikes.

Pee Wee Ballinger singled for the Wilhelm team after one hitter was away in the bottom of the first. He immediately stole second base, moved to third on a sacrifice and stole home for the first run of the game.

John Holmes accounted for the winning run when he led off for Wilhelms' in the second frame. The Big Bear belted a Don Conkle pitch over the left field fence, nearly 200 feet from the plate. Holmes blasted the homer after working the count to two balls and a pair of strikes.

Wilhelm's added another run in the second to complete their scoring. The second came without benefit of a base hit. Gabby Jenkins was safe on an error and came around on a stolen base, a sacrifice and a fly to the outfield.

Osgood's single run came in the fourth frame when the team collected two hits and drew two free passes. Steve Flescher lashed out a two-base hit and scored on one of two hits collected by Stewart Flesher.

The winners collected their three markers on a total of three base hits. Four Osgood errors aided in the scoring. Osgood could push only one run in one a five-hit attack. Wilhelm's was charged with only one miscue.

Vance's grabbed a 2-0 lead in bottom of the first inning. Bosh and Howison singled and scored for the losers. The Hinton team after going down in order in the opening inning, exploded for all its runs in the second.

A total of 12 men vent to the plate in that inning and before it was over 12 markers had been posted on only four base knocks.

Hinton collected its eight runs on five hits and three Vance errors. The losers' six tallies were chalked up on nine safeties. The winners played errorless ball in the field.

Tonight's American League games will send Isaly's against Marion Goodyear Tire and National City Bank against the Marion County Bank.

Films Prove Walcott Was Down For 10

'Illinois Commission Ignores Manager's 5-Point Protest

CHICAGO (AP)—Unless Felix Bocchicchio goes to court to prove somehow that pictures lie, the Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott episode is closed.

Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, was among those present yesterday for a special showing of three dimension films of Friday night's heavyweight championship bout.

The moving pictures showed definately that Walcott received a full count of 10 after his first-round decking by Champion Marciano.

Bocchicchio and Walcott had claimed Referee Frank Sikora dished out a fast count. The waspish Bocchicchio maintained, even after the evidence of the films was submitted, that he still thought the count was fast.

His lawyer, Angelo Malandra, declared the pictures were "edited and did not depict the actual action."

However, Chairman Livingston Osborne and members Lou Radzienda and Johnny Behr of the Illinois Athletic Commission were not swayed by what Radzienda called "this kind of nonsense."

At an IAC meeting following the movies, the commission disallowed all five points of Bocchicchio's protest that the result be set aside.

The commission said the KO at 2:25 of the first round "stands as official."

Furthermore, Osborne said, he was disappointed in Jersey Joe's showing and added firmly: "He should retire."

"I think Walcott was through when he went into the ring," he said.

Besides a charge of a fast count, Bocchicchio and Malandra based their protest on four other arguments: Marciano was not in a neutral corner when the count started: Sikora was escorting Marciano to Walcott's corner when the timekeeper started the count; Walcott actually was up before the count of 10, and the ring was not regulation size and too heavily padded.

Redleg Hurler Walks 13; Brooklyn Strands 18 Runners

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maybe there's a moral in what happened at Crosley Field Monday night: The generous man triumphed, while the stingy man plunged to defeat.

Clarence "Bud" Podbielan of the Cincinnati Redlegs certainly could not be called miserly with the number of walks he surrendered. Bud came within one base on balls of tying the modern National League record when he walked 13 men. He put so many on base that the grounds-keeper started worrying about ruts on the base-lines.

Preacher Roe of Brooklyn, on the other hand, didn't walk a man. He didn't put one on by hitting him with a pitched ball, either, as Podbielan did, although he did give up seven hits to Bud's six.

In the end it was Podbielan and the last-place Cincinnati Redlegs who emerged with a 2-1 triumph in a 10-inning game.

Ted Kluszewski was the hero, belting his seventh homer over the right-field bleachers with one out and no one on in the bottom of the 10th.

If Podbielan failed to set or tie a record, the Dodgers did —and Roe was its sorry victim. They left 18 men stranded to equal a modern major league record held by many clubs.

Podbielan, who earned his first victory against four setbacks, let in a run in the very first inning, but hurled shutout ball after that. With one out, he walked Peewee Reese and Snider. Jackie Robinson drove in Reese with a two-bagger to the scoreboard.

Roe kept the Redlegs handcuffed until Andy Seminick whacked his fourth home run over the centerfield wall with two out and none on in the fifth.

Campanella Slugs Ball At Record Pace

Leads League With .790 Mark; Kell Tops AL Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—It may be too early to tell whether Brooklyn's Roy Campanella will break any slugging marks this season. But he's been traveling at a record-shattering clip so far.

The first release of slugging averages for 1953 compiled by The Associated Press revealed today that Campanella tops both major leagues in that department with a phenomonal .790.

The Dodgers' burly backstop has hit for 79 total bases on 37 safeties, including four doubles, one triple and 12 home runs. He has been to bat an even 100 times.

If he keeps it up, Campanella will eclipse the National League slugging mark of .756 established by Rogers Hornsby in 1925. The all-time record is held by Babe Ruth, .847 in 1920.

In the American League, George Kell of the Boston Red Sox is setting the pace. The veteran third baseman has accumulated 57 total bases in 92 at bats for a .620 average. George has 14 doubles and two home runs. Records include Sunday's games.

Gus Bell, with 40 total bases in 60 trips, is runner-up to Campanella in the senior circuit, with .667. The Cincinnati outfielder has banged out a pair of two-baggers and six homers.

Auto Thrill Show Scheduled Wednesday at Local Track

The Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils come to the Marion Speedway Wednesday night. The program will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

Staged in conjunction with the Daredevils will be the 1953 International Championship Open Stunt competition, billed as the "Tournament of Thrills."

Competition will take place in virtually every event on the big 30-event program which is sanctioned by the International Stuntmen's Association, governing body of the stuntmen's trade. Contest events will include the broadjumping of automobiles and motorcycles, crash-rolling automobiles for distance and consecutive rolls, obstacle racing on two wheels, precision driving, the slide for life and speciality events.

Outstanding member of Chitwood's Daredevils is Dick Cobb, protege and understudy of the famous Cherokee Indian. He will be facing members of six other leading thrill shows in the nation in team competition.

Other American teams in addition to Chitwood's Daredevils entered in the show are Lucky Lee Grable's Hollywood Stuntmen, champions of the Pacific Coast; The Texas Lone Stars; and the Indianapolis Daredevils.

How To Keep Bugs Out Of Broccoli Patch

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP)—If you have trouble keepings bugs out of your broccoli plants, this is for you.

Scientists at the N. Y. agricultural Experiment Station here have improvised a spray or dust program designed to maintain practically insect-free broccoli.

The experimenters, as reported in the station's quarterly magazine, have obtained most satisfactory results in eliminating the bug hazard with a dust containing three per cent DDT and one per cent parathion applied before the heads begin to form. Next, apply one per cent TEPP or a one per cent parathion dust.

How To Take The Gamble Out
BUYING!

Before you buy any used car, ask yourself: Who can I be sure will give me a square deal?

You know we're responsible merchants, dealing with responsible people. You know we sell reliable cars — that's why we're Buick dealers.

And when it comes to used cars —we follow the same policy. Our All Square Used Cars get an honest inspection. Trained mechanics do a real repair and reconditioning job wherever needed. We deliver a car to you that you'll be happy to own—and that makes us glad you came to us.

We also give you a firm written All Square Guarantee!

Remember that as you read the fine values listed here:

Jobs Found For People Past 60

BOSTON (UP) — People over 60 years of age who cannot find employment due to their age, and thus feel lost and forgotten, are discovering new places in industry.

Sunset Industries, Inc., a new Boston organization still in the experimental stage, has opened formerly closed business doors for future harbor for the new industry.

Corn Recovery From Hail Damage Amazing

CHICAGO (UP) — Corn crops damaged by hail have amazing powers of recovery, according to a study conducted by the Country Mutual Fire Co., an affiliate of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Tests were conducted on the merly closed business doors to many elderly persons.

A non-profit corporation, Sunset Industries hires only people 60 or over and is directed by an impressive group of business and professional men. It is encouraging self-respect among New England's fast-swelling elder generation and is lessening the rise in old-age assistance costs.

Several large companies are cooperating in the back-to-work endeavor by releasing sub-contracts for completion under the old-timer work project. Sunset has started "60-plus" shops in Eastport, Me., and Boston. A new shop is being opened in Haverhill, Mass.

Eastport's shop is a woodworking plant employing men, and the Boston and Haverhill ventures employ elderly women who handle a battery of sewing machines. New Hampshire, which has the country's largest percentage of old folks, is under consideration as a farm of Lee Morrell in Fulton County, Ill., and hail damage was simulated by tearing the leaves.

The tests showed that only when corn is in the tassel stage can leaf damage cost an entire crop. Even then, every leaf must be destroyed.

Stripping only half the leaves at that stage caused a 45.5 per cent loss of yield.

The tests were conducted at five stages of growth.

GAS LIGHT ERA

WYOMING, N. Y. (UP) — The street lights here have been burning steadily for 40 years. Under an old agreement, gas is furnished free, and the village fathers said it would be too expensive to hire someone to turn the lights on and off.

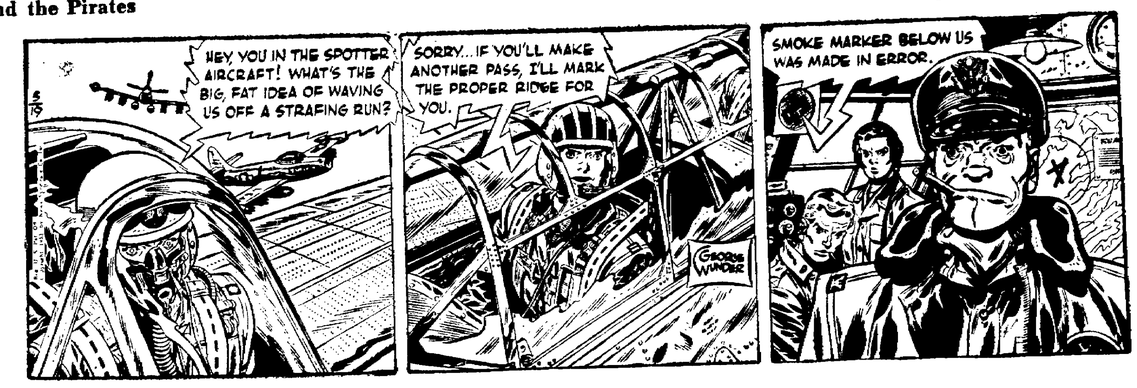
I'll say the same for you, Judy.
Yeah. I'm graduating from High School next month.
Look, I'm going to have a dress out of this for the Junior-Senior prom!
I get it—a super-Bikini evening gown!

Joe Palooka — By Ham Fisher

ANOTHER DAY HAS PASSED... HOYLE HAS RECOVERED AND IS RESTING EASILY.
MR. HOYLE, DO YOU THINK YOU CAN GIVE YOUR DECISION ON THE FIGHT NOW?
EVERYONE IS ON PINS AND NEEDLES, TOM.
CROIPS...YOU BEEN WAITIN' ALL THIS TIME... OH MY!
I HAD 'ER EVEN GOIN' INTO THE LAST ROUND... I WAS SURE BEATEN MYSELF... BUT UP TO THE BELL IN THE LAST ROUND I SCORED EV'RY POINT...
THEN RIGHT AFTER THE BELL RANG... I SUDDENLY GOT DIZZY AND BLACKED OUT... I GAVE THE LAST ROUND AND DECISION TO PALOOKA!
WE'D BETTER QUICKLY GIVE THAT TO THE PRESS.
SCORED IT THAT WAY, MYSELF, TOM.

Terry and the Pirates — By George Wunder



HEY, YOU IN THE SPOTTER AIRCRAFT! WHAT'S THE BIG, FAT IDEA OF WAVING US OFF A STRAFING RUN?
SORRY... IF YOU'LL MAKE ANOTHER PASS, I'LL MARK THE PROPER RIDGE FOR YOU.
